Pike

In Perspective

The class of 1969 will be the first class to have spent all four years of its high school experience in the present building. Growth has become an accepted thing at Pike as we are currently discussing plans for expanding the building and adding on new classrooms.

Pike, seen in its new and proper perspective, is no longer a "farm" school. We are privileged to have facilities which other "sophisticated" schools in the state as of yet do not have.

We attract our own share of publicity and attention—whether with tennis and baseball championships or by our band being conducted by President Nixon while he was still on the campaign trail.

Pike . . .

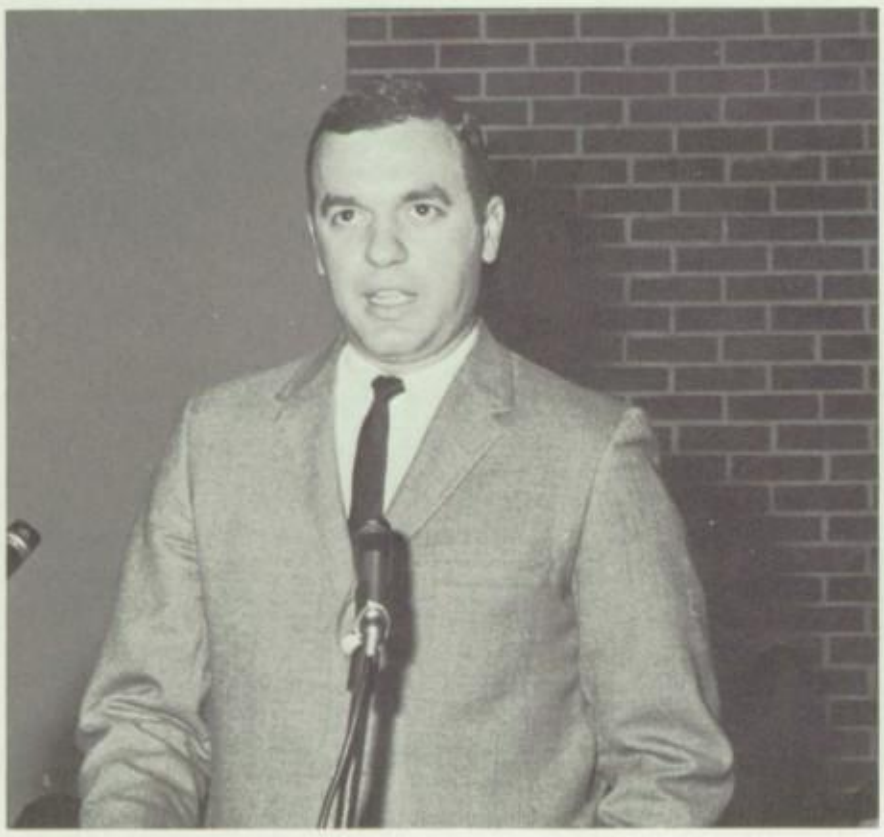
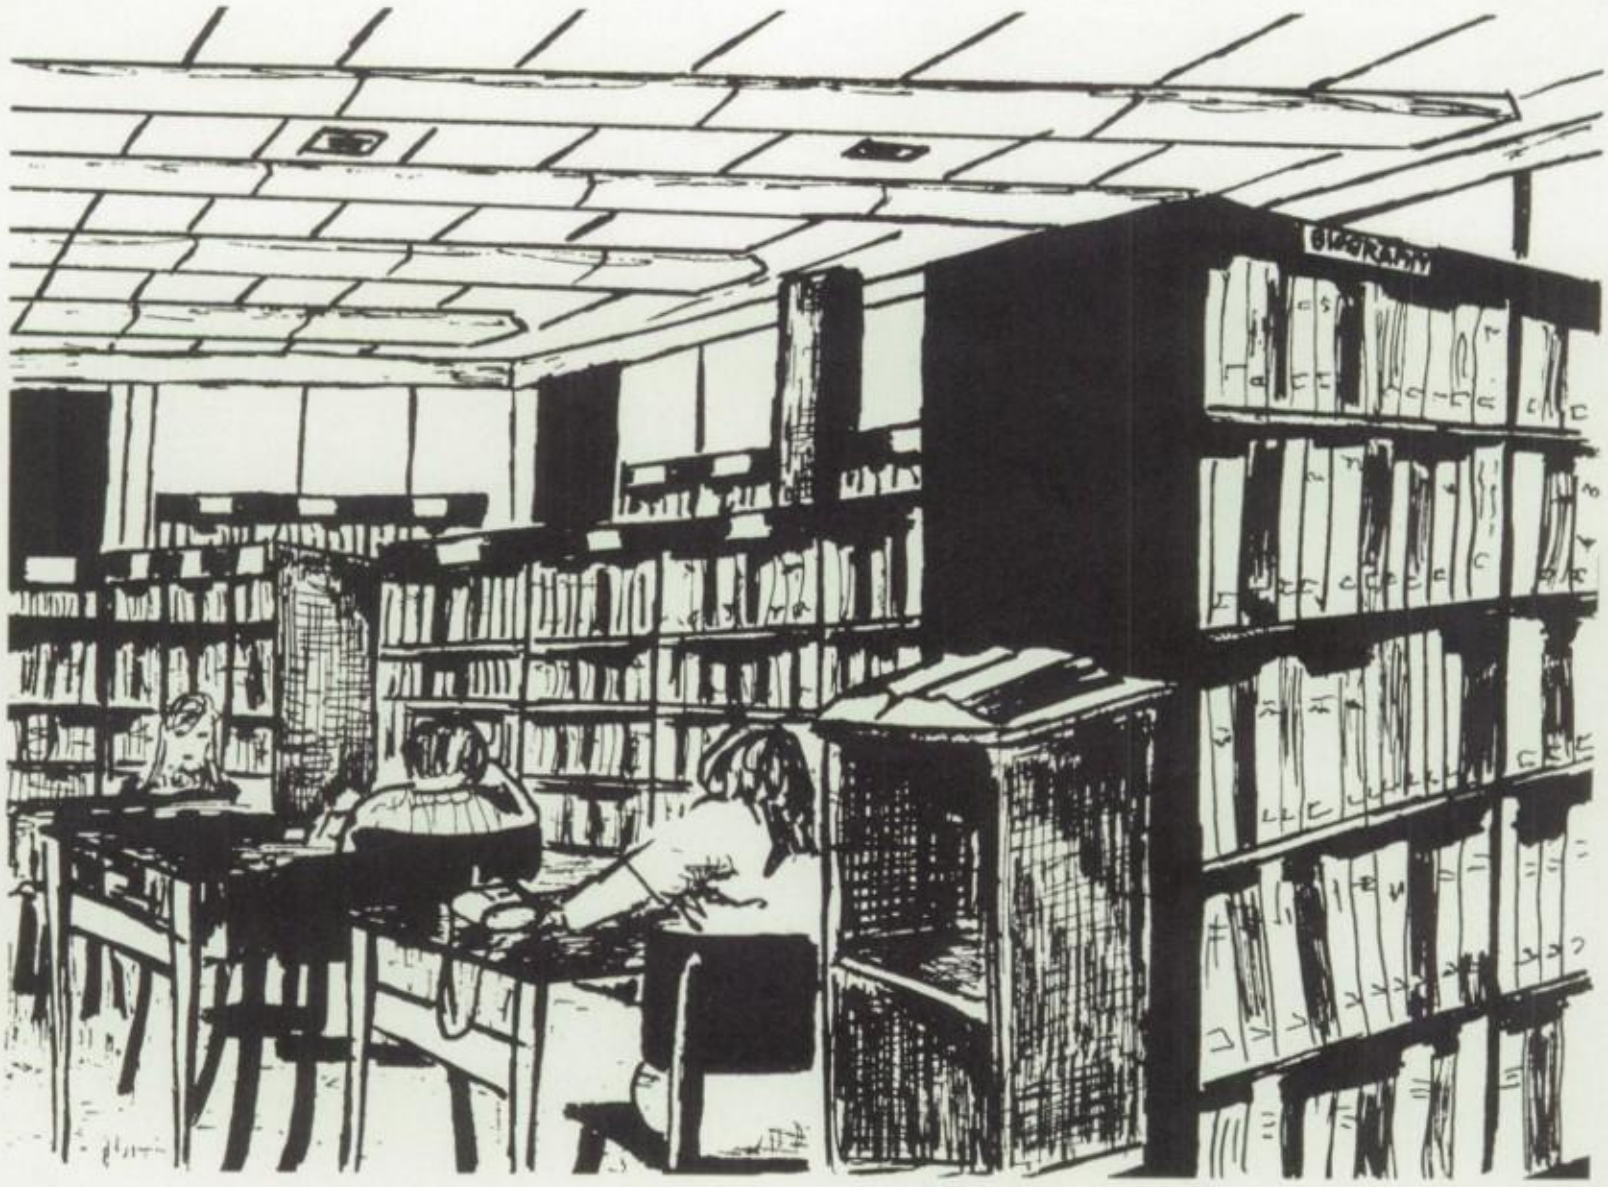
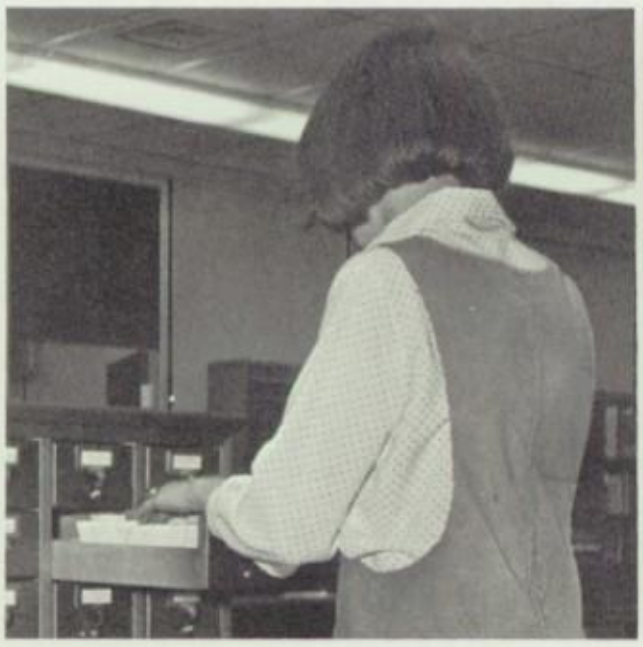
Mr. Leffler has come to know the school, community, and personalities much better in his second year at Pike. One of his major concerns has been the need to generate more spirit and pride in the student body. Special events provided opportunities to build enthusiasm—the homecoming bonfire that grew and grew, the "real Santa" convocation, and the PBR Pack (newly formed boys' cheer block). Other events have given kids and teachers a chance to let off steam—girls' basketball, faculty basketball, teachers' Christmas party.







ACADEMICS

Administration Eyes Future

School board meetings are scheduled monthly to attend to the community's educational needs. SEATED: Members Mr. Netter, Mr. Samuelson, Mr. Maines (president), Mr. Pritchard, and Dr. Kremp. STANDING: Mr. Martin, Mr. Shaw, and school attorney Mr. Irwin.

MAX SHAW, Superintendent; HERSCHEL BAKER, Assistant Superintendent; VERNON BLACK, Special Services Director; DONN MARTIN, Business Manager; GENE PRUITT, Director of Curriculum.

The administration and school board are concerned with policies, curriculum, and planning for the future expansion of the community and school plant.

Mr. Shaw presented to the board the need for immediate addition to the high school. The building will be expanded to provide more classrooms. The board also realizes the need for another elementary school due to the rapid community growth as seen in the addition of College Life, Gateway West, and many other new commercial plants. Mr. Maines, as president of the board, considered curriculum updating along with Mr. Pritchard, Mr. Netter, Dr. Kremp, and Mr. Samuelson.

School Standards Set

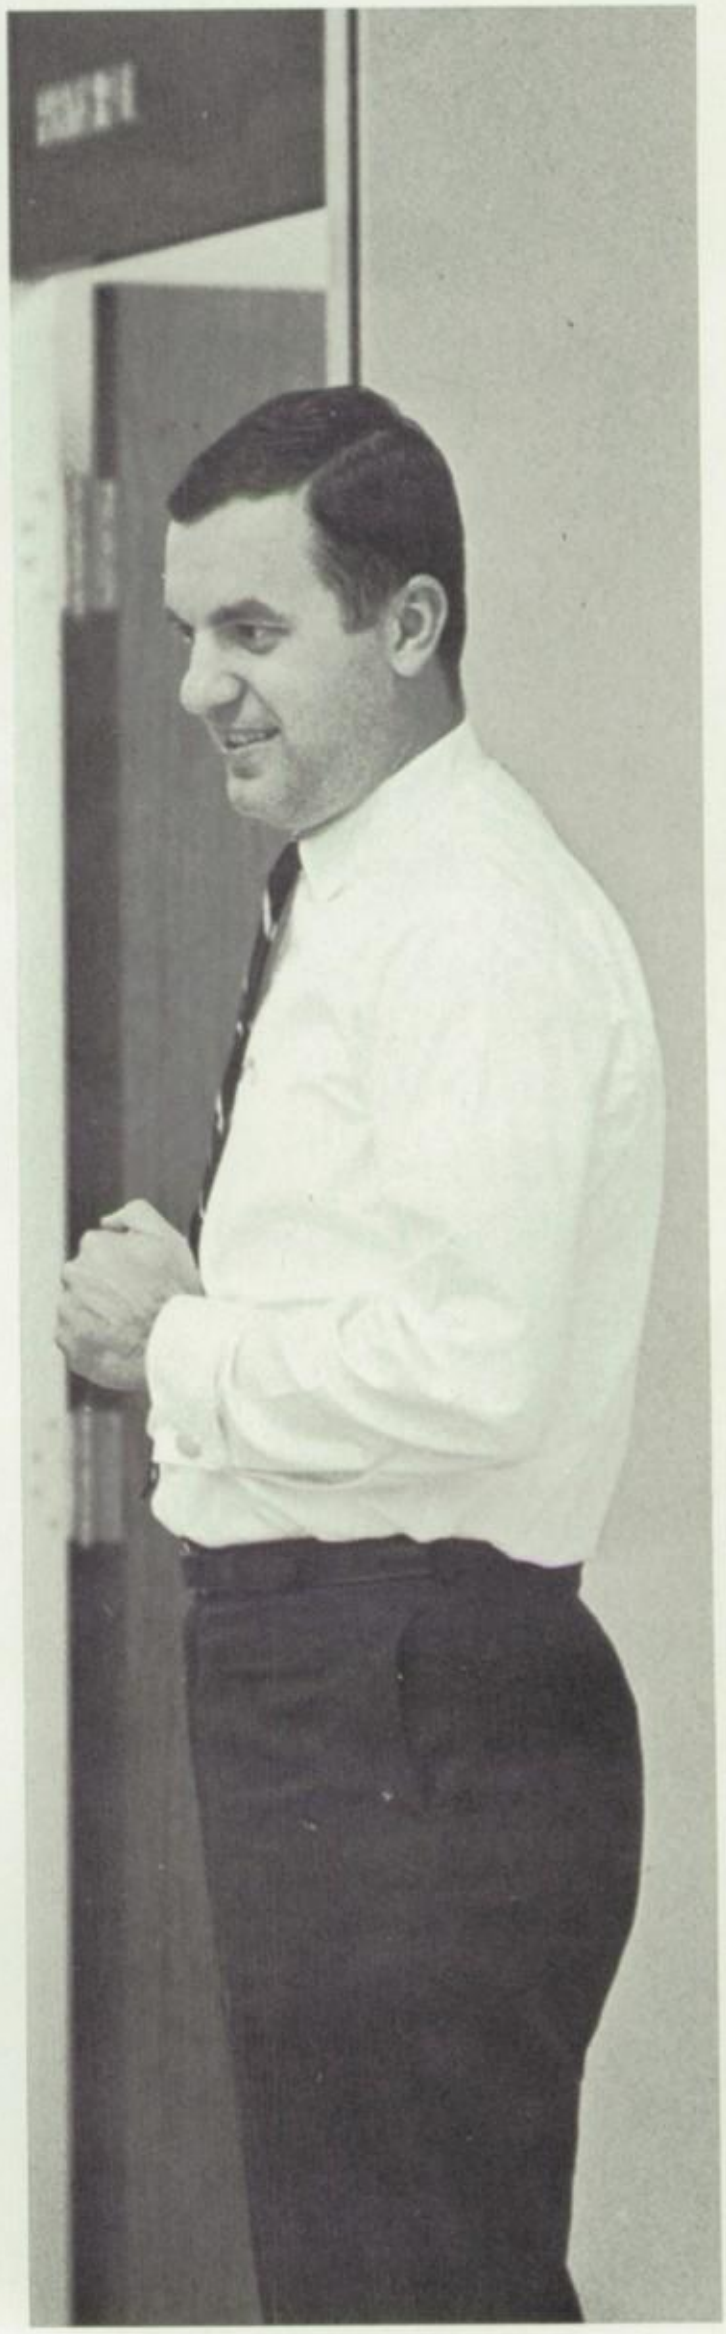
J. MICHAEL LEFFLER, Principal; DANTE SCHIAVONE, Vice-Principal; CHARLES AMICK, Director of Guidance; JULIUS BREMEN, Special Education; CARTER BYFIELD, Boys Counselor; MRS. PEGGY ORTH, Girls Counselor.

Mr. J. Michael Leffller, principal, entered his second year of affiliation with Pike and continued his evaluation of the school and upgrading of practices and policies. Without the North Central Evaluation hanging over our heads like Damocles' sword, we were able to enjoy and learn in a more relaxed atmosphere.

Mr. Schiavone worked with the thankless task of keeping daily attendance records and dealing with disgruntled students. He also helped with the evaluation of staff members, ordering class rings, caps and gowns, and announcements.

The guidance department under Mr. Charlie Amick's leadership afforded pupils the opportunity to meet with college representatives. Career Day was again held to familiarize students with various occupational opportunities and requirements.

Mr. Amick regularly checks students' schedules for changes.
Taking a brief respite from the rush of the school day, Mr. Leffler pauses in the office.



Staff Sees School Runs Smoothly

The cafeteria personnel enjoy lunch before the thundering masses arrive.

MRS. LOIS BERNLOEHR, Bookstore Manager; MRS. PEARL GOOD, Office Manager; MRS. JEAN WILEY, Guidance and Library Secretary.

The phones ring at once, someone wants change, and a pupil needs a late pass to class. This is the typical scene in the office. Under the efficient management of Mrs. Good, Mrs. Bernloehr, and Mrs. Wiley all these problems get solved along with many other more vital procedures needed to make a school run smoothly.

Red Wilkerson is constantly charging about the building fixing things, setting up for special events and seeing that the physical plant is operating at optimum efficiency.

Mrs. Brewer serves in a dual capacity as matron and also running the nurse's office. She keeps a close account and reports illness to the office.

Mrs. Bray works behind the scenes in the school laundry seeing the gym towels and uniforms are clean. Mrs. Eaks also works quietly and effectively as matron with Mrs. Brewer. Then seldom seen but ever present are Mr. Hagans who supervises building maintenance and the night custodial personnel.

Red Wilkerson spins the dials to make Pike run like a smooth ship.

V.A. and Library Add to Classroom

A.V. assistants learn the dreary but necessary art of cataloging.

The major resource tools available to a teacher are books and visual posters to supplement text assignments. These additions to the typical school program fall under the capable direction of Miss Myers and Mr. Daniels.

Miss Myers has worked patiently over the years to build up the resource books in government and international relations. She has supplied critical reviews of various literary periods or authors and their works which would be pertinent to the English classes. Speech classes often use the library materials in preparing for debates and readying a possible rebuttal. Juniors sometimes found themselves using the library to prepare a joint history and English research paper project. Teachers might also request specific books be added to the school's professional library.

Mr. Daniels helped teachers prepare tests, posters, order films, and schedule film strips. From his department one might also borrow records to be used in the classroom such as some of the Shakespearean plays. Teachers with student teachers often asked Mr. Daniels to film the novice in the class so that later the student teacher could see his own strengths and weaknesses as the students and other observers perceived them.

MISS ESTHER MYERS, Librarian.

English Provides Humanities Program

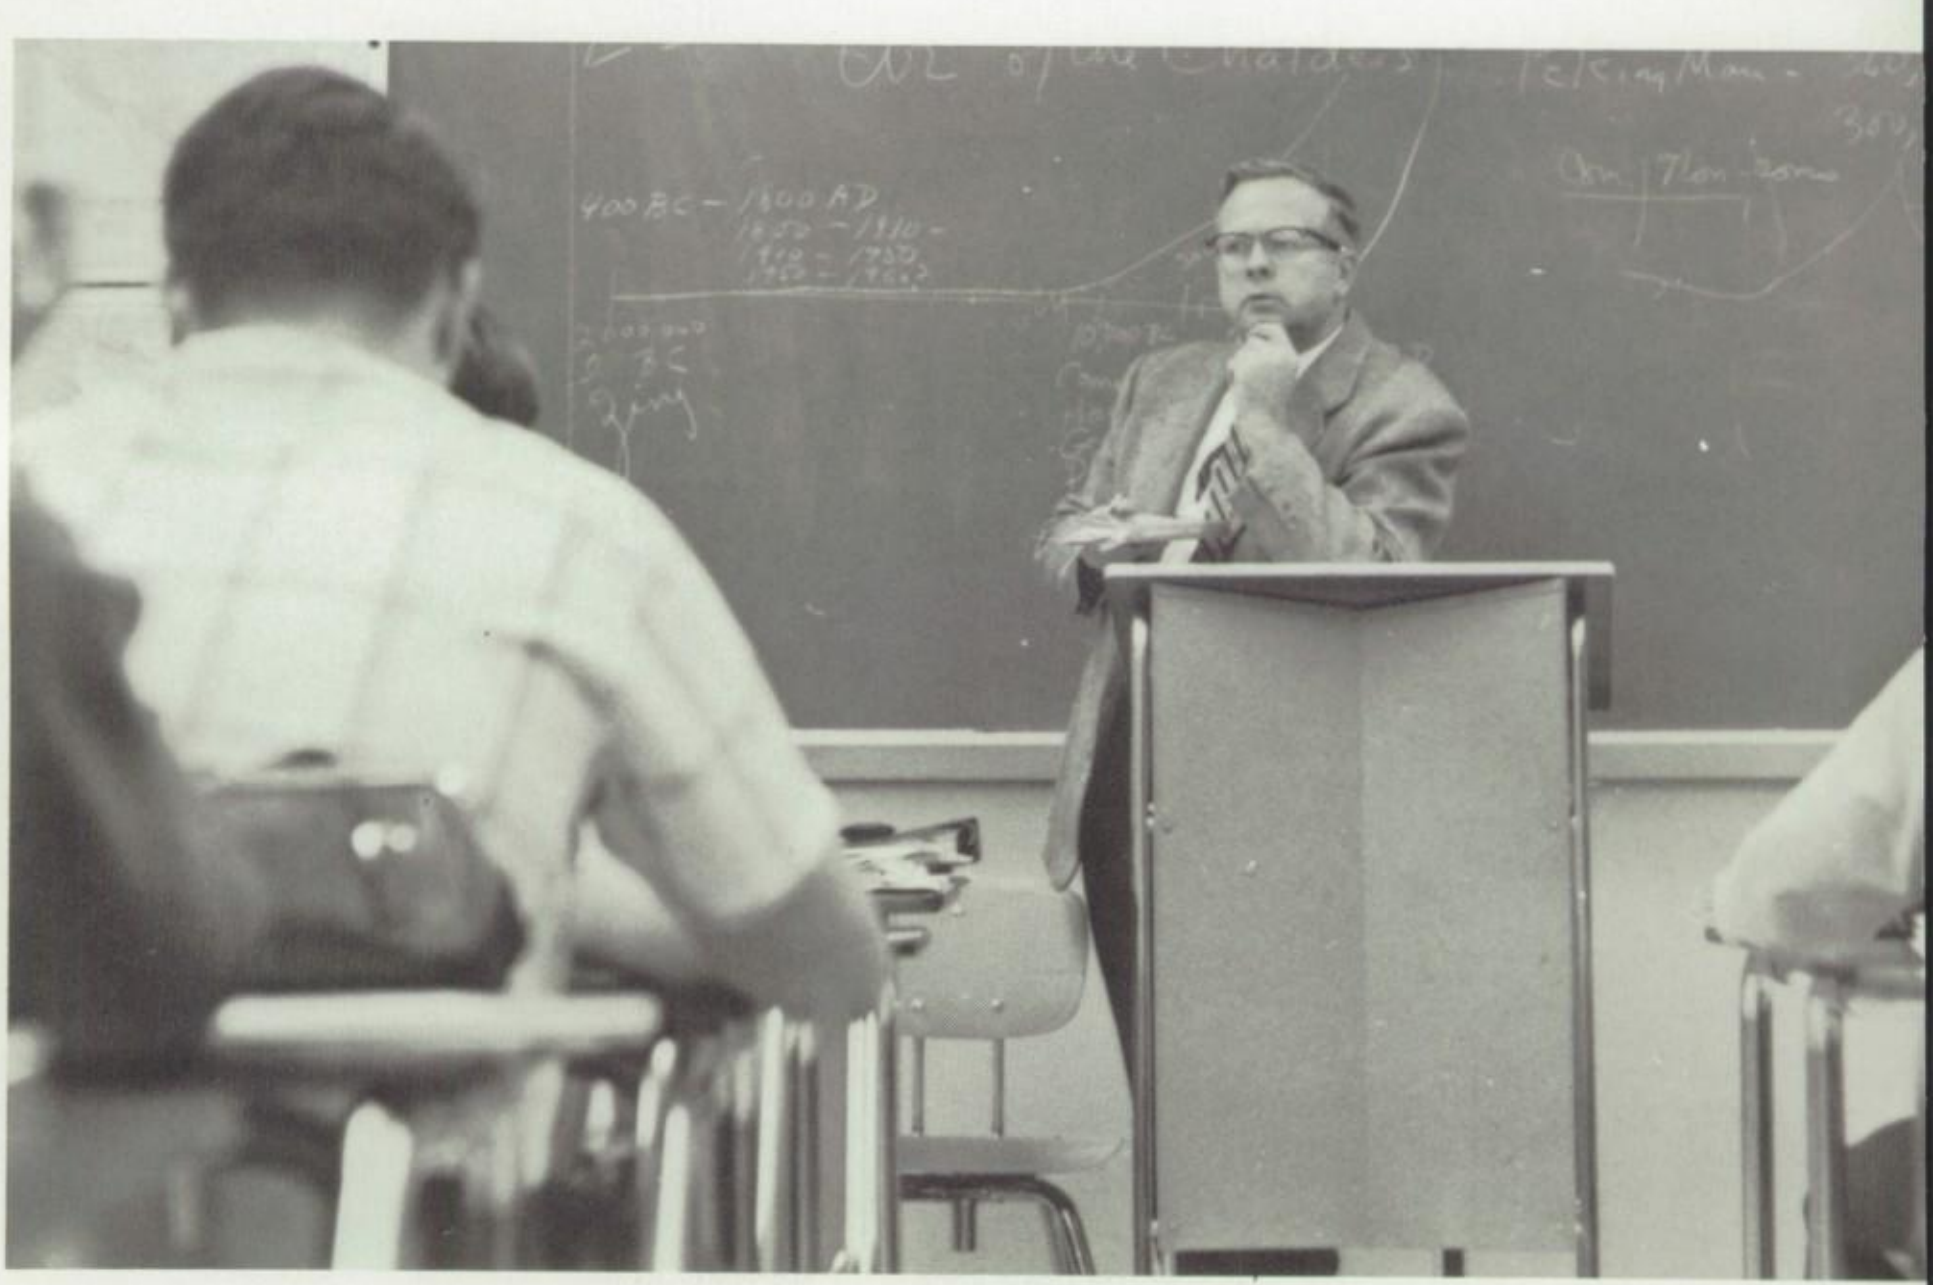
The addition of a humanities program which correlates American history, literature, music, and art was one of the major projects of the English department. Novels of social protest were read showing how the works reflect the times in which they were written.

Another change in English procedure was the establishing of Journalism 1-2 as a prerequisite for yearbook as well as for school paper. For the first time yearbook is no longer a non-credit course.

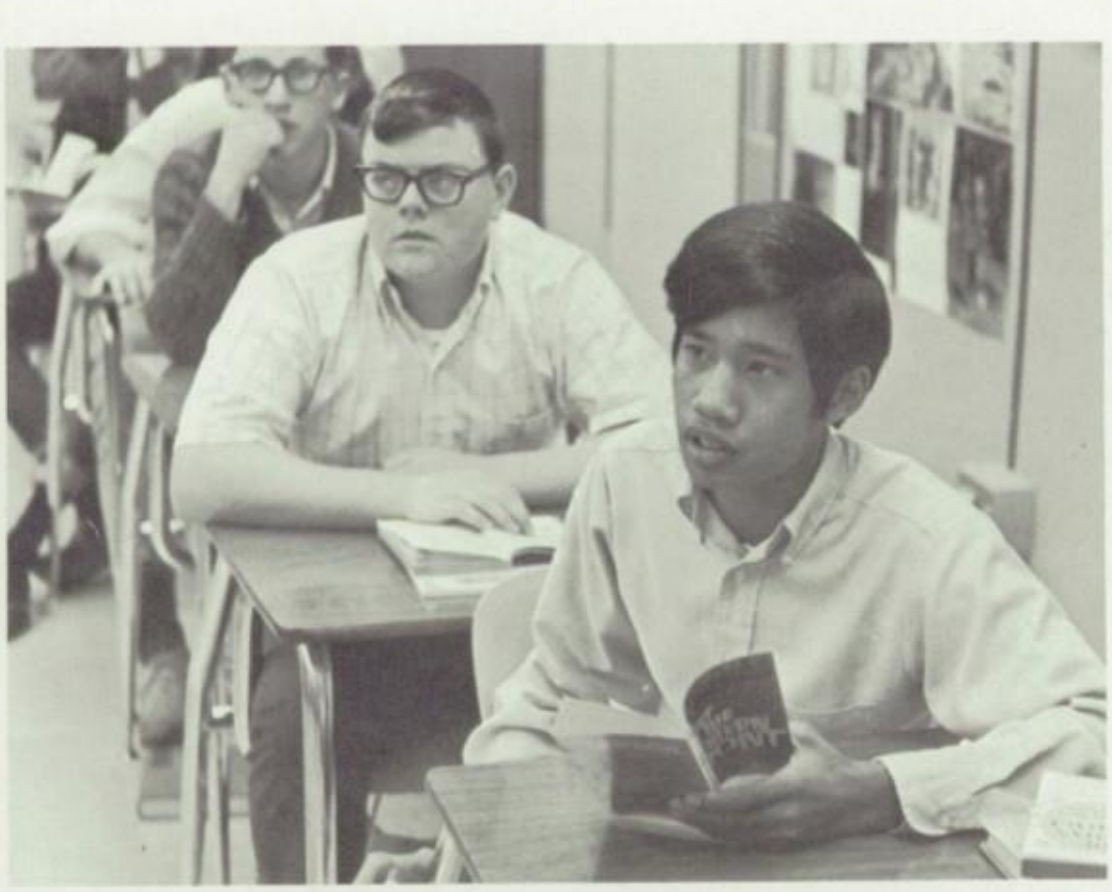
Reading lab became a program in which the individual teacher helped and, in some cases, initiated the type of work needed by the particular class.

The speech courses helped pupils to gain confidence in speaking before others. In many situations, pupils were introduced to parliamentary procedure and rules for discussion and debate for the first time. Drama classes enabled students to become familiar with classic form and works in the theatre.

Mr. Brooks reflects on a student's answer in English class.



MRS. ANN BOOTH, English 5, Yearbook; CHARLES BROOKS, English 7-8, World Geography, Sociology; MISS PAT BROWN, Reading Consultant; LOREN CARMICHAEL, Department Chairman, English 7-8, Speech; MRS. DIANE HENSLEY, Journalism 1-2, School Paper, Spanish 1-2; LEE HORN, English 1-2, Drama, Speech; RONALD IWEMA, English 3-4; MICHAEL MANCINI, English 1-2, English 3-4R; MRS. KAREN WEST, English 3-4, English 5-6, Humanities.



Ben Lagadon and Roy Smith listen to a discussion of one of the favorite books in senior English, All Quiet on the Western Front.

History—Election and Space Races

As evidenced by the facial expressions, sometimes even history faculties do not interpret events the same way.

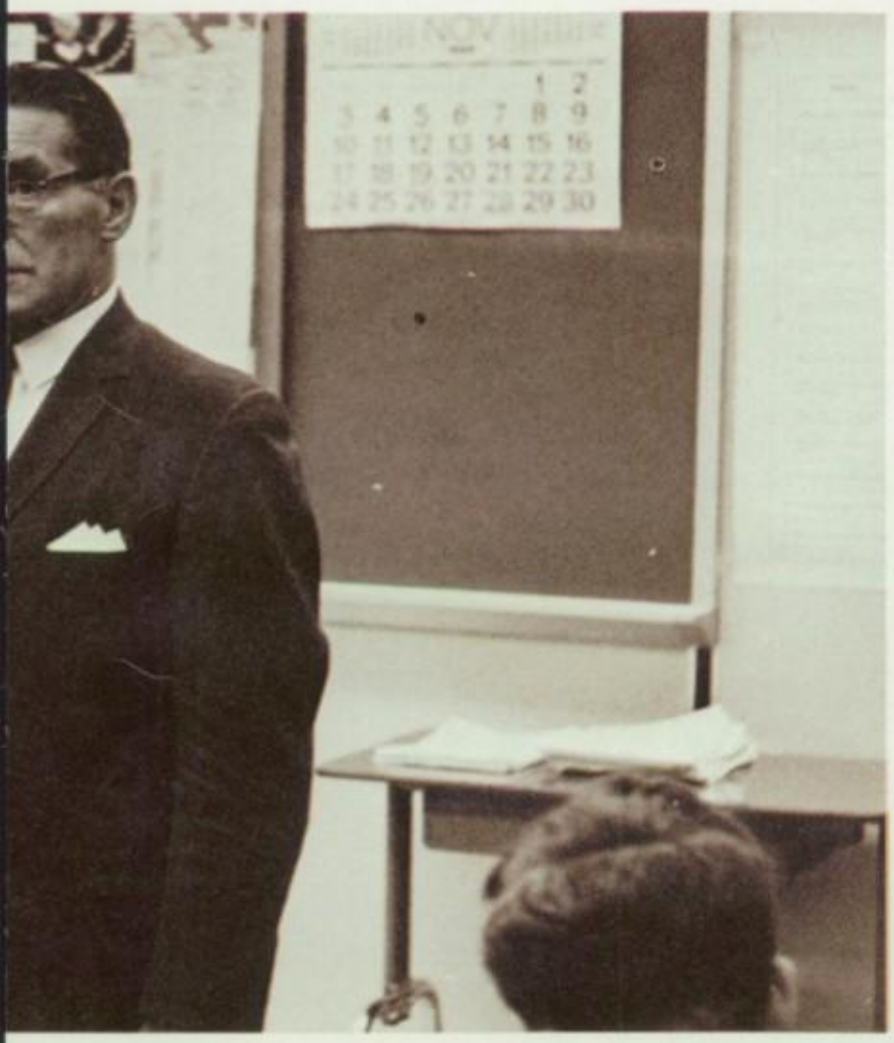
The social studies department, under the direction of Mr. Ed Matthew, has developed a team teaching approach to American history. The course is correlated with the English departments as well. This experimental project is taught by Mr. McGuire and Mrs. West.

Other history department offerings include sociology taught by Mr. Brooks. In this course pupils have a chance to view the types of problems which society poses for its members. Study of timely current trends also becomes a relevant part of the discussion.

Government was particularly pertinent and interesting in this election year. Because of the closeness of the presidential race, pupils were able to debate the pros and cons of the electoral college. Space exploration was another timely topic for scrutiny with the trip around the moon at Christmas. But these modern topics were all better understood when seen within the framework of their historical background and significance.

Some of the more talented students demonstrate the music of the Reconstruction period for the humanities class.

ED MATTHEW, Department Chairman, World History, U.S. History, Government; MICHAEL McGUIRE, U.S. History CLIFFORD REESE Economics, Government.



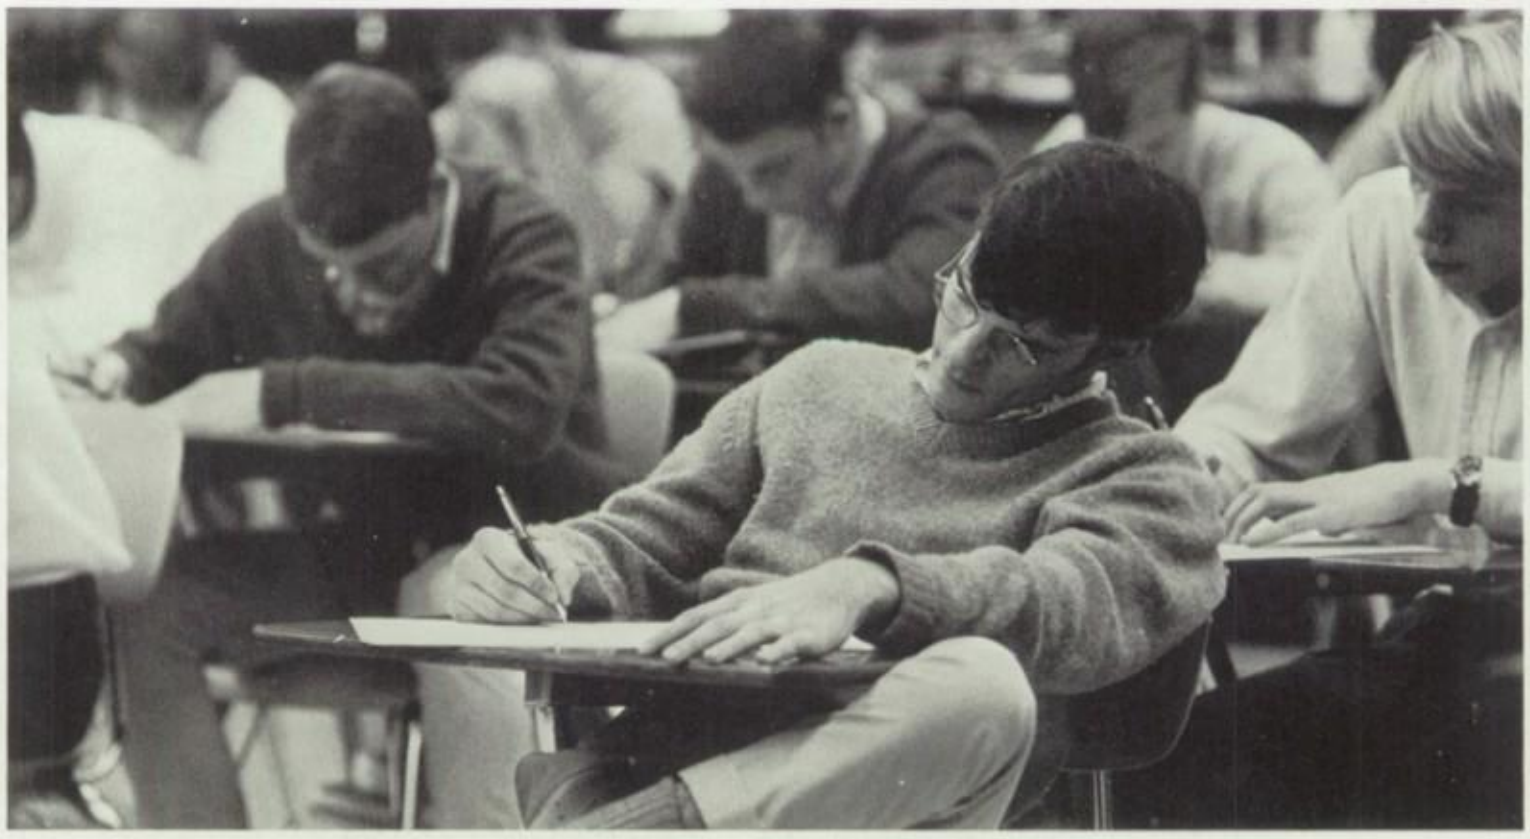
As students copiously take notes, Mr. Reese explains the world current events. Mr. Matthew erases information from the board which he hopes is now permanently etched on his pupils' minds.

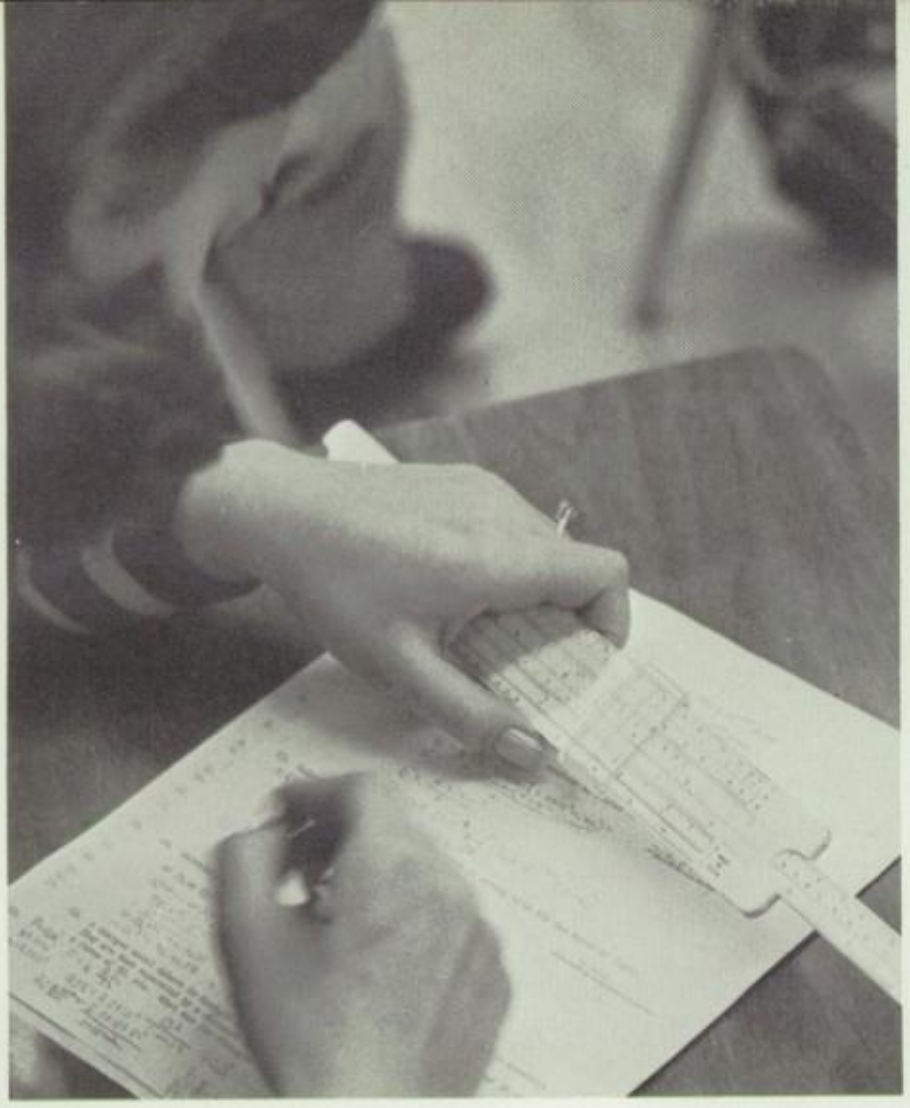
Math Department Grooms for Future

PAUL CURTIS, Algebra 1-2; PETER MARIETTA, Trigonometry, College Algebra, Algebra 3-4; MRS. DONNA REECE, Geometry 1-2, Consumer Math; JAMES WATSON, Department Chairman, Algebra 1-4; MRS. JANE WELDING, General Math, Geometry 1-2.

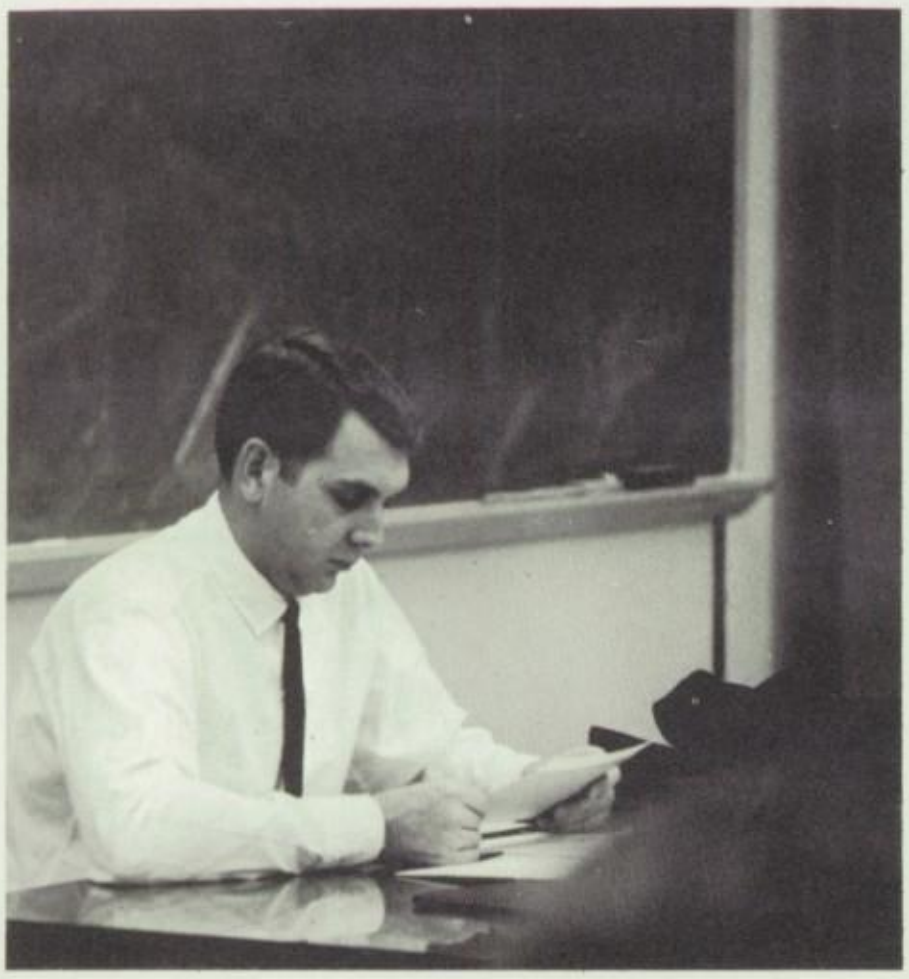
The math department welcomed back a familiar face as chairman with the return to the high school of Mr. James Watson. A lateral course change took place as consumer math became solely within the realm of the math department; the course had been offered by the business department, but a change was recommended by the North Central evaluating team last year. Mrs. Donna Reece was another new member added to the faculty to teach consumer math and geometry. Besides the algebra and geometry which many pupils take, college bound students preparing for a math-oriented career usually found their way into Mr. Marietta's college algebra or trigonometry classes.

Concentration and mathematical ability help in taking weekly tests.





Cindi Diller discovers that competence on the slide rule is a necessity for survival in math.



The patience of Job is a quality of Mr. Marietta as he laboriously grades exams.

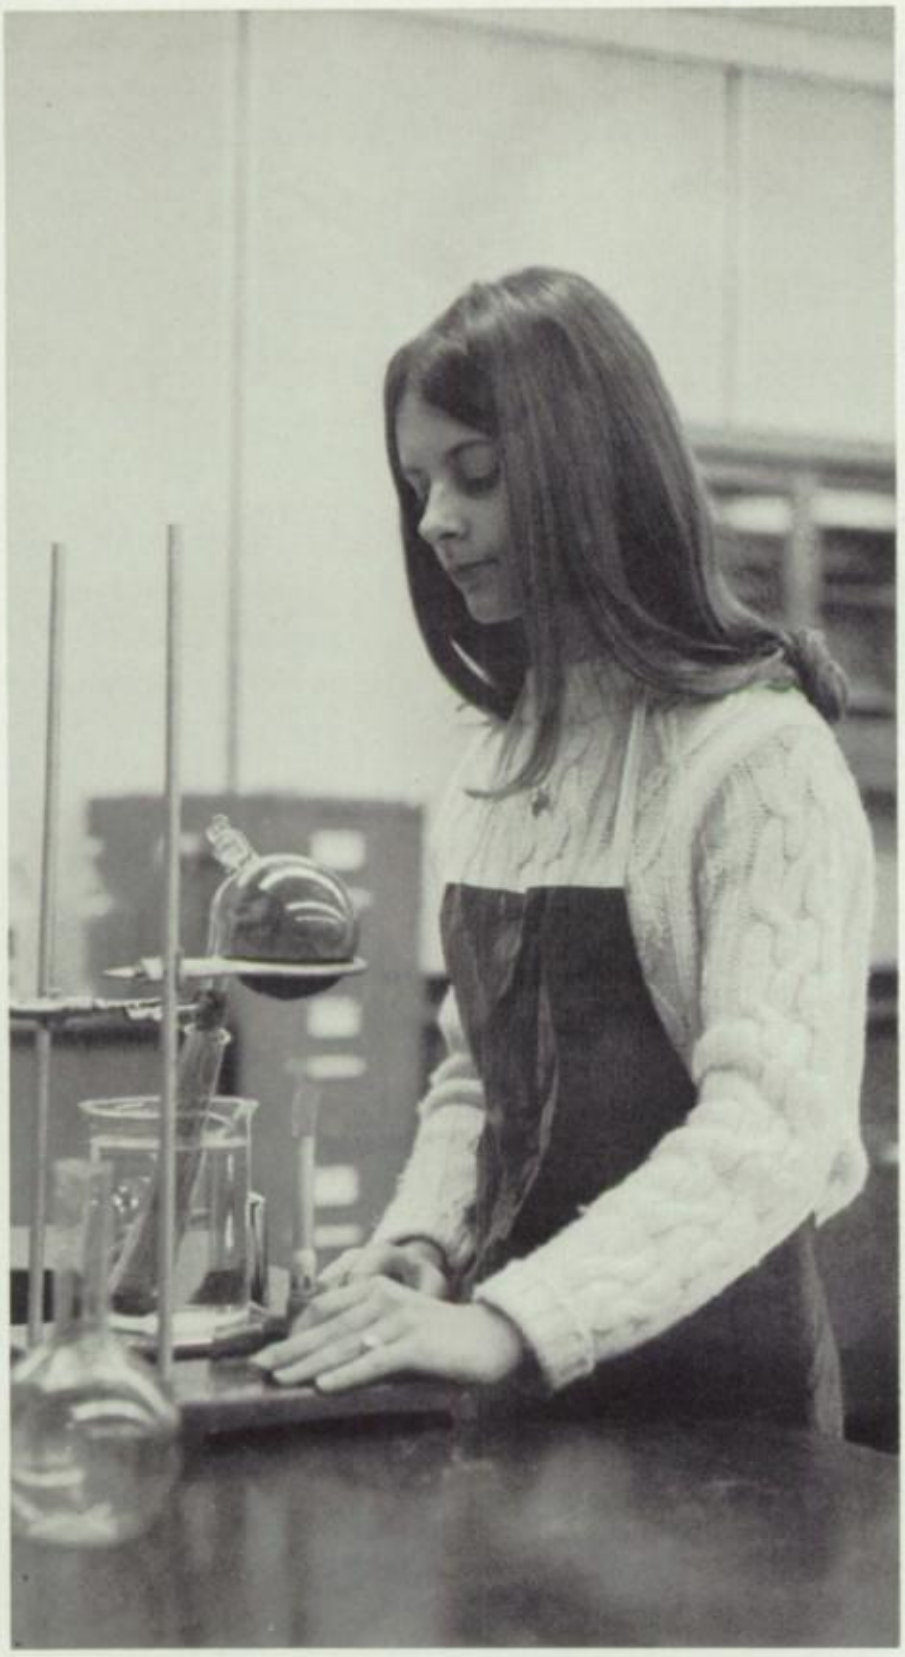
CLIFFORD BARBOUR: Department Head, Biology, Botany: WILLIAM HANSELL: Chemistry, Physics; RICHARD SHADE: Fundamental Analysis, Physical Science, Physics; DUANE STANLEY: Planetarium Director, Astronomy; DONALD ORR: Biology.



Slide Rules, Pigs, and Stars Spark Study of Science

Slide rules, pigs, and stars are just a few of the everyday essentials of Pike science students. The student has the opportunity to explore the universe through the astronomy; dwell deep into the anatomy of plants and animals in zoology, biology and botany; or study the characteristics of molecules in chemistry and the effects of motion in physics.

This year Mr. Barbour, biology instructor, was the dept. head. New to Pike was Mr. Hansell, chemistry and advanced physics instructor.

Others on the staff were Mr. Stanley, director of the planetarium and astronomy; Mr. Shade, physics teacher; and Mr. Orr, biology instructor.

Jr. Patia Hardin looks contently at her experiment in Chemistry class.

Mr. Barbour helps out puzzled zoology students with their fetal pig.

Mexico Trip, International Dinner Inspire Foreign Language Study

The Foreign Language Department trained pupils in the techniques and usage of alien languages: German, Spanish, French and Latin.

Students in the language clubs joined forces for another successful International Dinner. Food and entertainment from the various represented nations provided a continental atmosphere.

Excitement reached a feverish pitch when 38 Spanish students visited Monterrey, Mexico, under the direction of Mr. Brown and Mrs. Hensley. The students visited open air markets, a Mexican high school, and watched a Mexican bullfight.

Senior Gary Wright spent nine weeks in Kaifle, Germany, participating in the I.U. Honors Program.

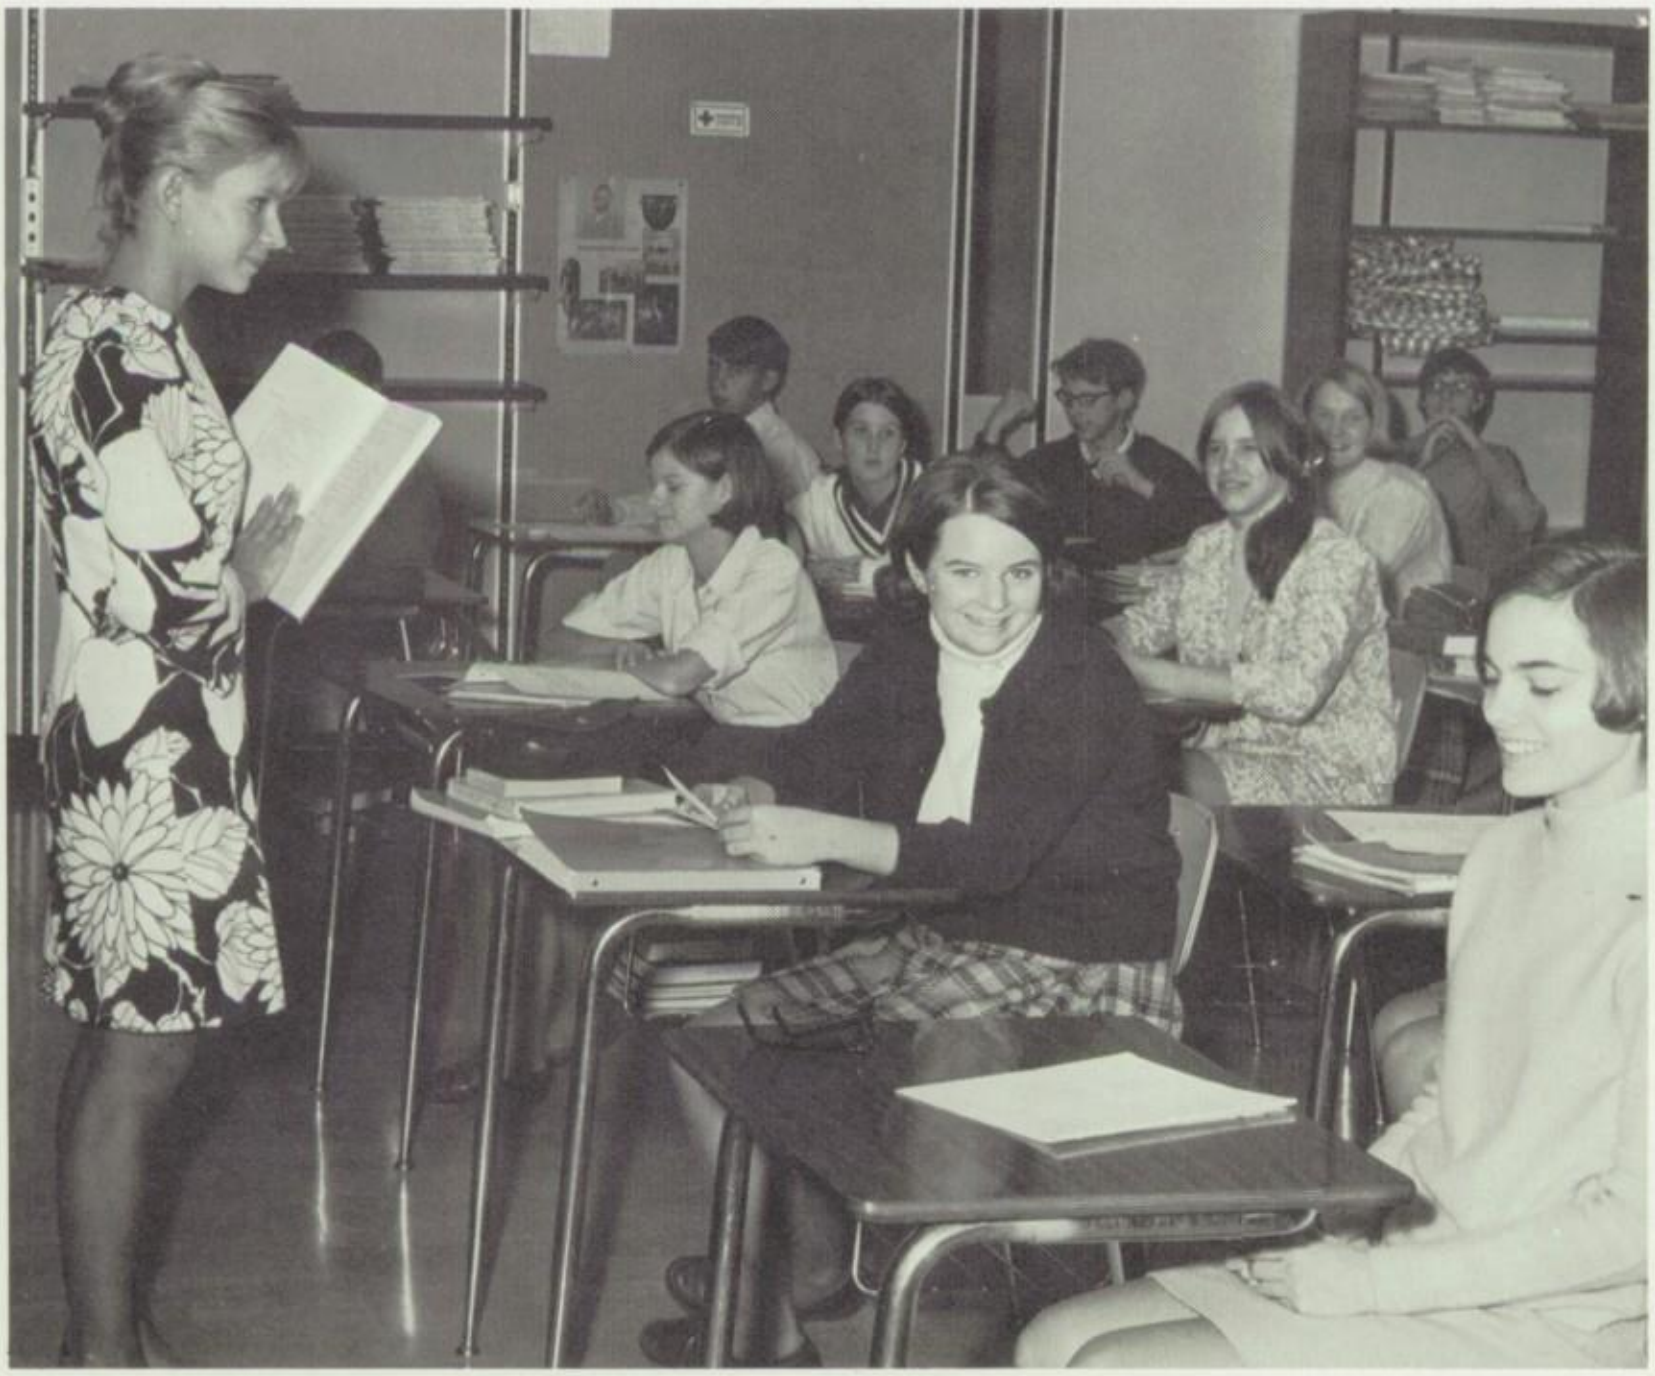
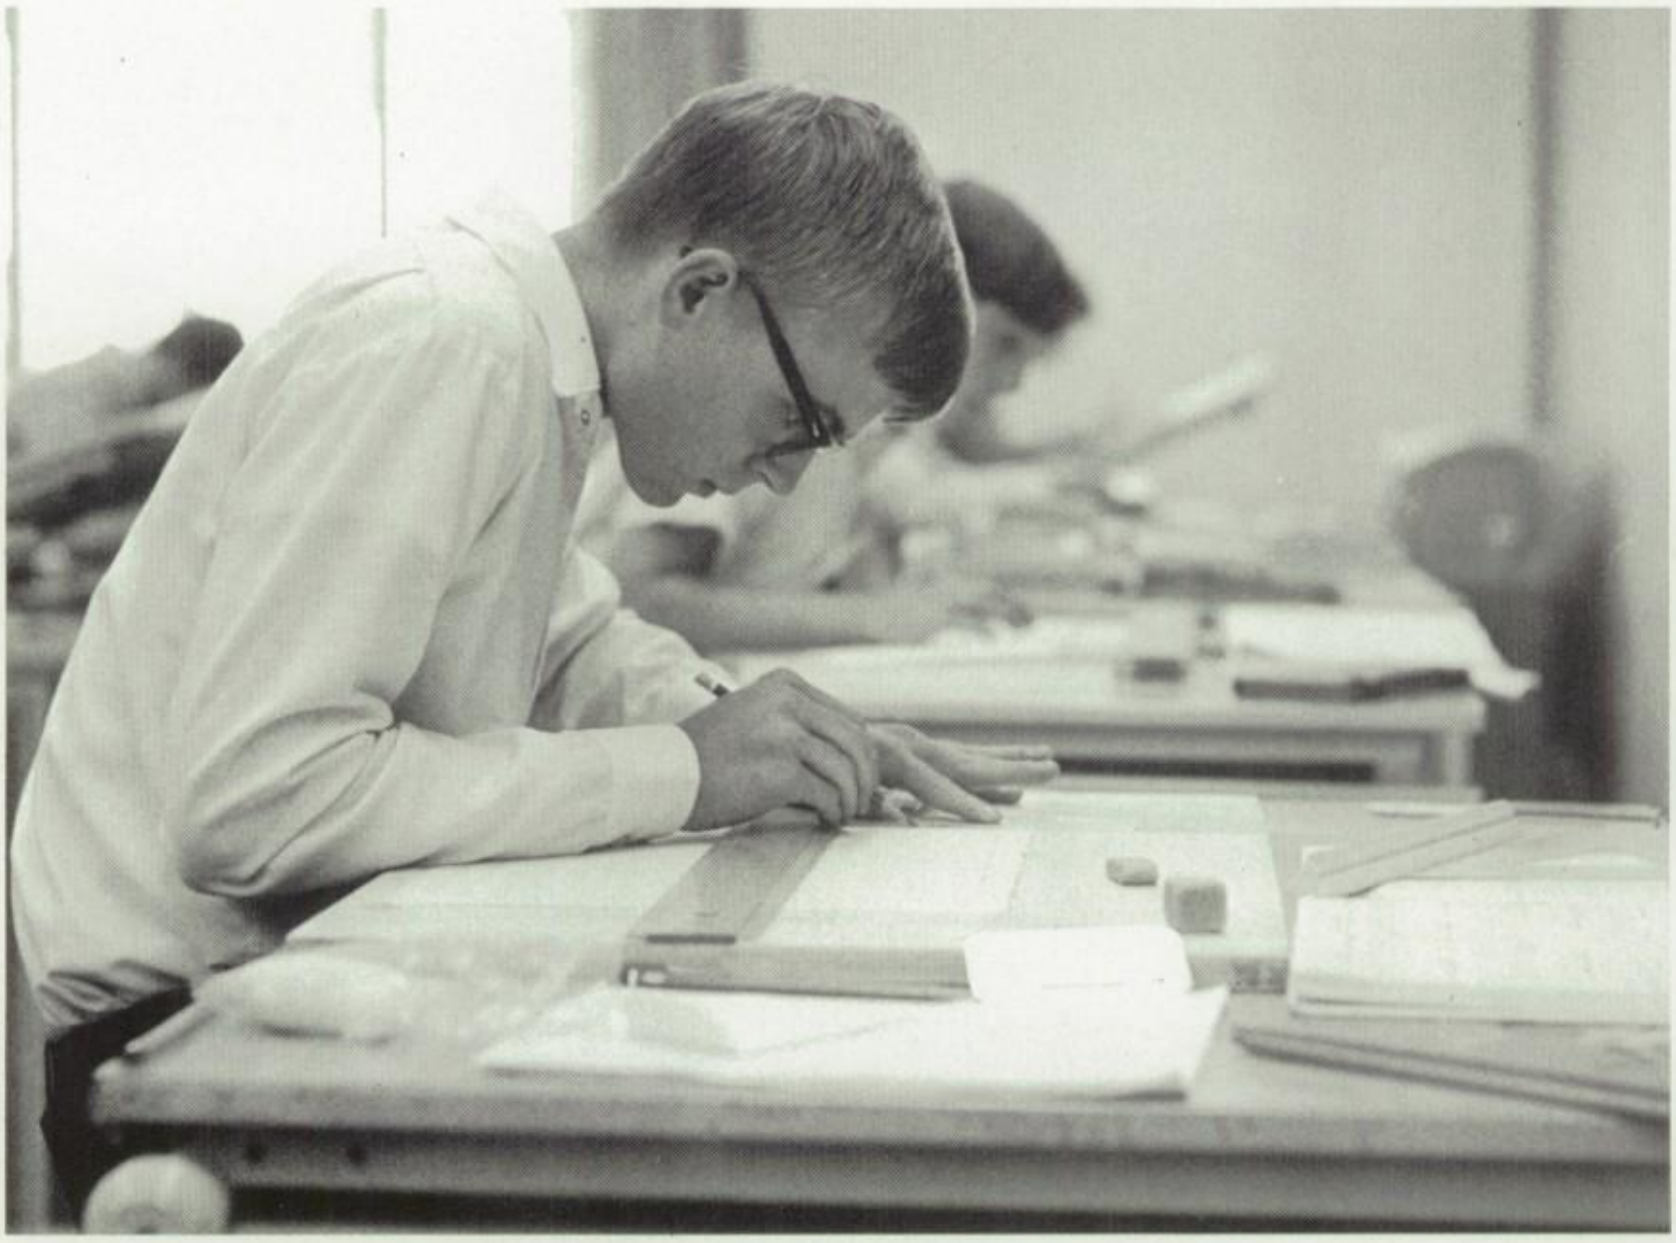
Spanish teacher John Brown reads dictation to his students.

JOHN BROWN: Spanish; ELFRIEDE CICAK: German; LINDA GIGNAC: French; MARGARET HUNT: Latin, Derivatives, English; CYNTHIA WHITE: French.



Mrs. Gignac encourages her students to discuss and converse in French.



Keith Caylor is engrossed on his Technical Drawing assignment.

Duane Bernloehr is cleaning up the show card press after making a poster.

Dan Craig and Herman Mabry are taking advantage of the warm weather to work on the Hearse.

CARL BROWN: Department Head, Electric Wood, Technical Drawing; ROBERT LARGENT: Graphic Arts, Metals, Power Mechanics.

I.A. Dept. Probes Technological Age

"He that has a trade, has an estate," were the well chosen words of Ben Franklin. The Industrial Art Students, with the materials of industry, explore the vital processess of our technological age.

Electronics, graphics arts, metal working, power mechanics, technical drawing, and woodworking are the electives offered.

Radio Club, I.A. Club, and a field trip to Jasper Engine and Transmission Exchange Plant were the extra activities available to interested students.

Steve Poinsette is carefully filing the cutaway of the engine.

Imagination Is the Key to Art

MRS. LINDA YOUNG
Arts and Crafts

Under the imaginative instructions of Mrs. Linda Young, Arts and Crafts students have had an interesting and creative year. Students were encouraged to express themselves through various media and to develop their individual talents. Projects varied between individual illustrated picture books to modern oil paintings, and diverse sculptures.

Art students were given an opportunity to attend a field trip to Indiana University. There, they viewed a fabulous collection of oil paintings and modern sculpture. A field trip to the Chicago Art Museum was also offered to the art club and the interested members of the first trip.

Renee Randall finds oil painting a means of self-expression.

Mrs. Young advises Richie Hardin on a perspective drawing.

Senior Lynn Maines instructs an elementary pupil in basic sole techniques.

MRS. ANNE LOOMIS: Dept. head, Home Ec., Exploratory Teaching.
MRS. DOROTHY LOUDENBACK: Home Ec.

Carolyn Cartwright pins a dart on her jacket for her sewing project.

Mrs. Loudenback helps the girls thread the machine.

Field Trips Highlight Home Ec. Year

Field trips highlighted the year in the Home Economics and Exploratory Teaching classes this year. While the advanced Home Ec. classes took a trip to the Home Show, the Exploratory Teaching class planned trips to the Head Start Center.

In addition to being active with field trips, the first year Home Ec. classes were adding dresses to their wardrobe while the second year students added suits, dresses, vests, and skirts to their wardrobe.

The cooking classes highlighted their year with making jelly and cookies.

The Exploratory Teaching classes were highlighted by actual classroom experiences with junior high and elementary school students.

Bands, Choirs Blend Talents in Musical Array

The Music Department had a productive year. Mrs. Marshall directed the Choir and Glee Club. The select vocal group, the Hi-Tones, received a first place in State Contest. A new girls singing group, the Accents, was formed.

The bands, led by Mr. Ricks, were active in team support, concerts, parades, and the Band Spectacular.

The orchestra lent its talents to the production of "Music Man" and the Spring Music Festival.

R. Hardin, J. Thomas, B. Shank, P. Snyder, G. Soper, M. Monninger, M. Eggleston, R. Moser, B. Caesar, R. Hardin, C. Manners, H. Bredeweg, G. Palmer, G. Corr, B. Monninger, C. Caesar, K. Smith, S. Martin, are members of Hi-Tones.

P.E. Strives for Strength, Skill

The physical education department had a program of varied activities and sports. Pupils learned the basics of numerous team games. Swimming proficiency was also stressed in a three week session. Students were taught all the "latest" dances as well as square and folk dances.

Driver's Education enabled students to learn the various skills involved in becoming proficient drivers. The health classes practiced first aid and bandaging, as well as learning the symptoms of various illnesses.

Intramural sports and G.A.A. are organizations sponsored by the P.E. department to provide activities for every student.

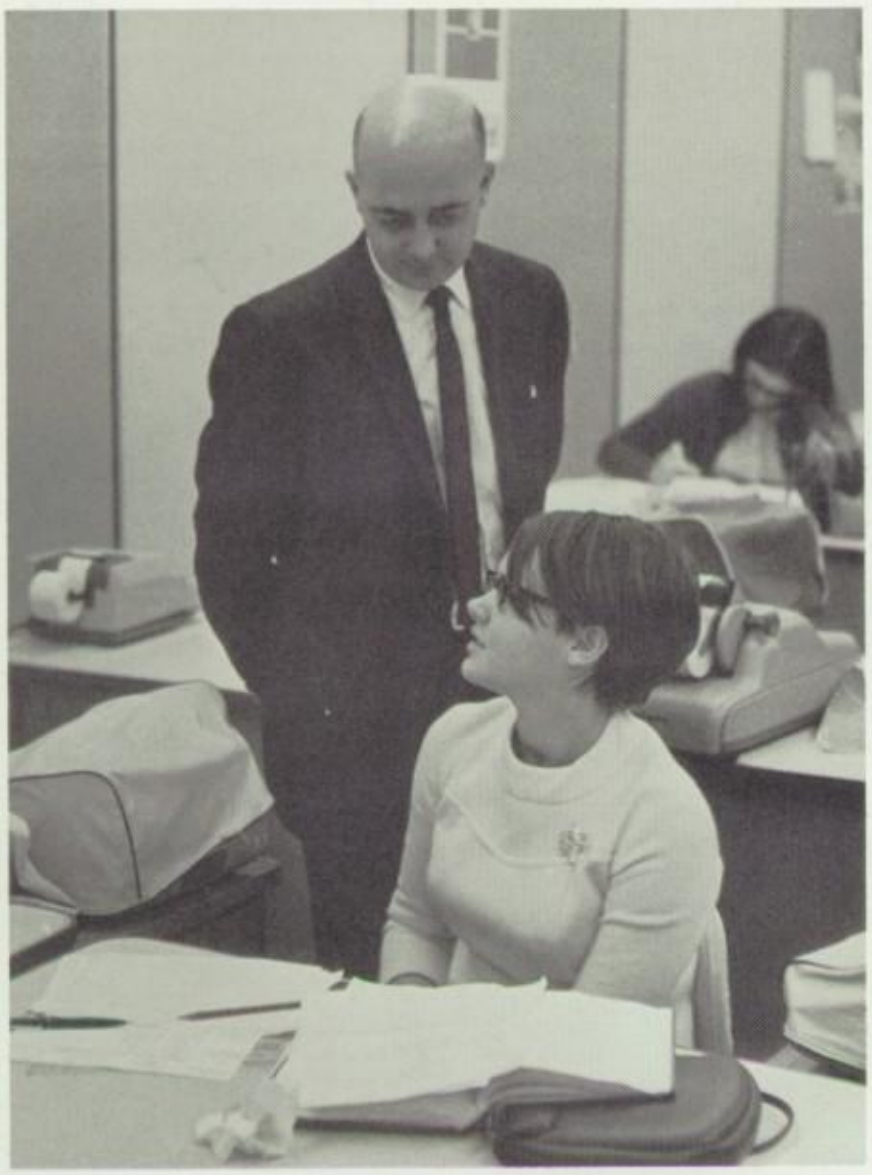
Business Adds New Dimensions



There are a wide variety of subjects offered for the business minded students. The Business Department offers shorthand, typing, office practice, law and math.

New to our school, Mr. Bill Price, Co-Ordinator of Vocational Education, has taken charge of the Work Experience Program. This is a program similar to the D.E. Program offered last year except it includes occupations other than retailing.

The plans have been laid for a newly-approved program called Co-Operative Office Education. This will provide the students with actual work in offices. Enabling them to experience an office situation. The whole philosophy is "Earning by Learning."

QUEEN

The sophomores have a colorfully decorated float which expresses the theme of the evening "Time for a Victory."

Denny Almas proudly accepts the honor of Mr. Football from Homecoming Queen Janet Hillagoss.

Fighting Denny Almas breaks through the line as the team pushes for a victory.

Bonfire Ignites Devil Spirit

Queen Janet Hilligoss reigns over Homecoming with court, Pam Warren, Cindy Synder, Debbie Shoemaker, Sally Oliverio, Sue Loudermilk and Terri Mann.

After several weeks of enthusiastic planning by clubs and student body, the 1968 Homecoming was an exciting success.

The class competition of woodpiles and a tug-of-war in conjunction with the traditional sale of FBLA mums began the festivities. Halftime festivities were brightened by the crowning of Queen Janet Hilligoss by the 1967 Queen Patti Ansley. In float competition, the sophomores, with their theme, "Time for a Victory", barely edged the Class of '69 for a first place win.

The evening was highlighted by a victorious football game in which the Red Devils defeated Beech Grove's Hornets 22 to 12.

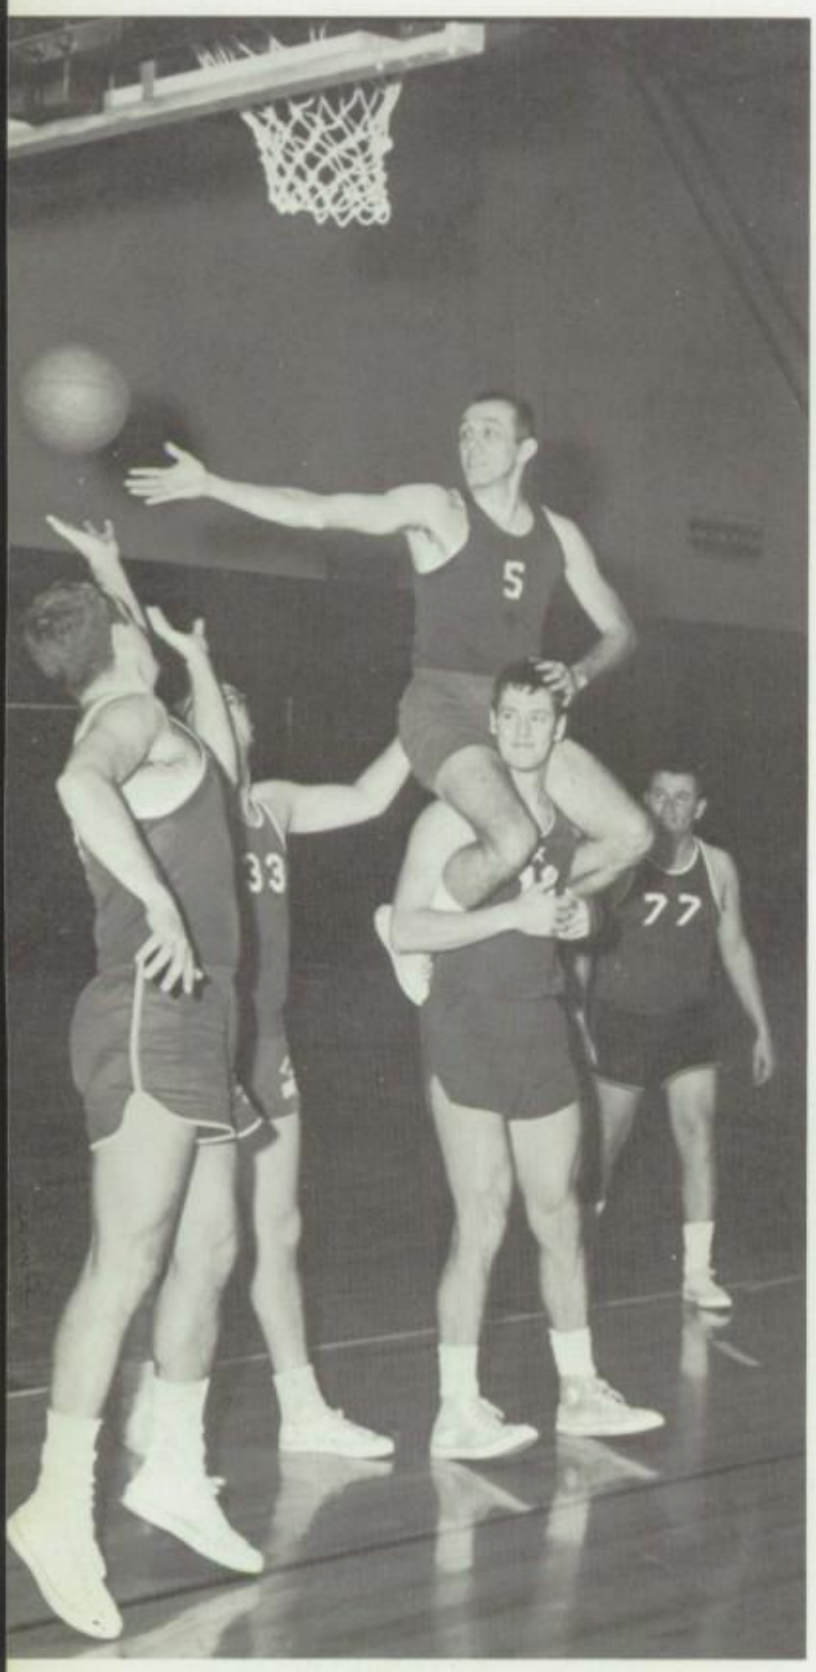
Following the game, the FBLA sponsored a victory dance. Queen Janet crowned Denny Almas 1968-1969 Mr. Football.

Huge bonfires boosted the spirit in the pre-game festivities.

Lettermen Make Sports 'Special'

The Letterman's Club got sports off to a spectacular beginning by bringing the WIFE Good Guys and the Texas Cowgirls to Pike for two exhibition games. The WIFE Good Guys battled strenuously against the high school faculty but were unable to score a victory. A one point triumph was claimed by the "fighting faculty". In the second game, the Texas Cowgirls showed their skill by an easy win over their adversaries, the Pike 500 Booster Club.

Pike history teacher Mr. McQuire finds himself dancing with the Texas Cowgirls. Whoopee!



'Lightning Leffler' strikes again as he flashes by the score for Pike.

Teacher Ed Seigel rides piggy-back on Ron Iwema's shoulders as they clown with the WIFE Good Guys.

Musical Carousel Proves 'Spectacular'

Spectacular '69 presented a "Musical Carousel" featuring the concert band and choir, dance band, Pikettes, and Hi-Tones. With more showy and exciting numbers each year, the '69 Spectacular offerd glowing Indian dancers, mop-headed rag dolls, brightly adorned go-go dancers and Scottish Highlanders.

A tremendously effective finale began with the concert choir and Hi-Tones singing, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic". On signal, the Pikettes saluted in the direction of the choir where a huge flag of lights was illuminated. Both sellout crowds stood to salute the flag while applauding the patriotic scene.

Mopheaded dolls came to life in "Scalawag." The Pikettes donned Roman attire for the majestic "Ben Hur."

Bill Diehl seems to be the Pied Piper, leading the Pikettes into a Scottish jig.

The concert band, directed by Mr. Ricks, added talents and tones to make the spectacular a success.

Thespians Present Two Successful Dramas

"The Diary of Anne Frank" opened another successful season for Pike's Thespians. The tragic study of a Jewish family hiding from the Nazi's during World War II featured Kathy Smith, Steve Hise, and Phil Snyder on leading roles supported by Randy Moser, Bev Caesar, Diane Pritchard, Jean Westmoreland and Carl Roetter.

The mid-winter play was Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology." This unique literary work presented a challenge to the participating Thespians. Each had to portray six to seven different characters representing past residents of an imaginary town in Illinois. Folk songs added still another aspect to the play. Included in the cast were Seniors Ginger Soper, Phil Snyder, Karen Browning and seven underclassmen, four of whom were freshmen.

Anne, portrayed by Kathy Smith, mocks boyfriend Peter, played by Steve Hise.

Mrs. Frank comforts her daughter Anne, after a terrifying nightmare.

Seniors Ginger Soper and Phil Synder are accompanied by Karen Browning in a scene from Spoonriver Anthology.

Senior Phil Synder steps forward to give advice to the living.

Largest Cast Ever Presents "Music Man"

The largest cast to ever perform on the Pike stage was involved in a combined effort of the music department and the Thespian troupe in the musical production of Meredith Wilson's "The Music Man".

The story centers around Professor Harold Hill, played by senior Marv Eggleston, who, as professional swindler, picks River City as his target. His plan is to sell the idea that the children of River City should form a Boys' Band and then charge the town for uniforms, instruments, and lessons. His intention to leave town before the citizens find out he is a fraud is stymied by his attraction to the aging librarian Marian Paroo, played by senior Bev Caesar. As he is brought before the irate townspeople, he is saved by the timely appearance of the River City Boys' Band.

In supporting roles were Carl Roetter and Ginger Soper as mayor and wife, along with Linda Hadsell, John Priest, Holly Bredeweg, Debbie Besore, and Pam DeWitt. The quartet included Mark Batman, Gary Absher, Randy Moser, and Phil Snyder.

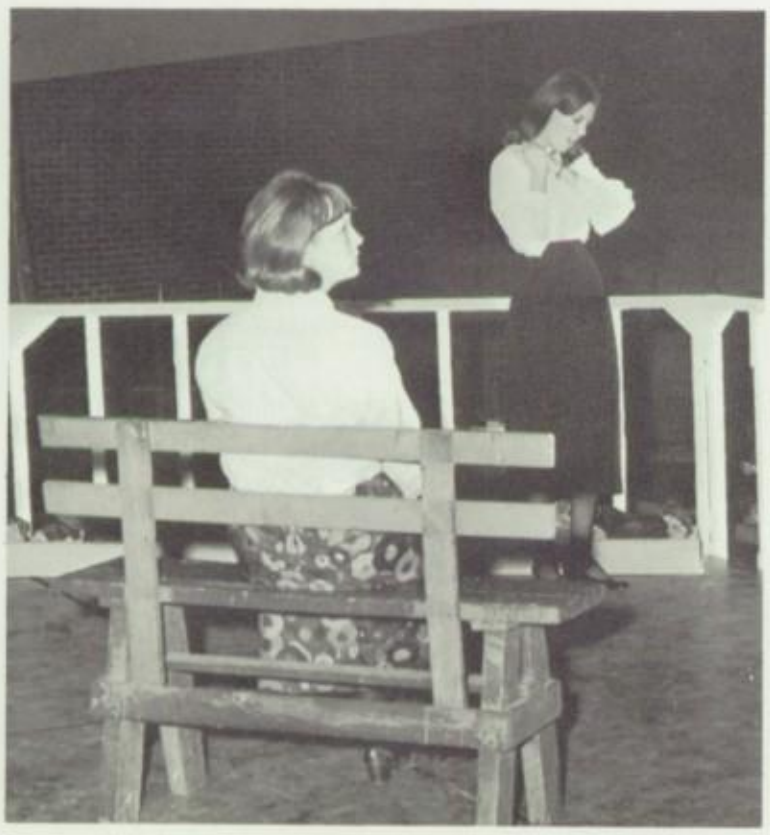
Marv Eggleston (Harold Hill) and Bev Caesar (Marian Paroo) discover there was nothing "Til There Was You".

Even Mr. Horn is occasionally allowed "on stage" with his "Alright people, let's go!" line.

Professor Hill warns the people that they surely have "Trouble" in River City.

Ginger Soper as Mayor Shinn's wife leads the people of River City in a July 4th celebration.

Bev Caesar (Marian) tells her mother, Linda Hadsell, in song that she has found her white knight.



Harold Hill asks Pam DeWitt (Zaneeta) and Holly Bredeweg (Tommy) to follow his lead in this airy dance.

Steve Hise, as a fast talking salesman, receives a surprise "sale" from a "Try Me" Marian Paroo.

Red and white streamers, hearts, and soft lights set the mood for the Sweetheart Dance.

Swinging Through the Year, Semi Formal Dances Dominate the Calendar

The first semi-formal of the year, the Sweetheart Dance, was sponsored by the F.T.A., F.N.A., and Red Cross. A sweetheart queen candidate was nominated from each of the all-girl clubs.

Four representatives from each of the classes were selected as candidates for the 1969 Letterman's Queen. The votes were cast at a penny a ballot. Ann Leavitt was crowned queen as the highlight of the dance.

The G.A.A. dance broke procedence by having a lively group, "The Joys of Life". With the theme "Deep Purple", lavendar and blue decorations and a summer house completed the romantic setting.

At the eleventh hour, Senior Dottie Hill was crowned Queen of Hearts by Mr. Mancini to draw a lovely evening to a close.

Carol Werner and David Stahl clown for the camera to prove they're enjoying the music and atmosphere of the Sweetheart Dance.

Greg Hahn, Sherry West, Bill Diehl, Barbara McKinney, Penny Marlin, and Bill Weston enjoy talking as well as dancing at the annual GAA Dance.

Leis, Soft Lights Enhance Beauty of 'Blue Hawaii'

Soft music, floral decorations, and leis enhanced the atmosphere of the somewhat unusual and unique 1969 Junior-Senior Prom, "Blue Hawaii".

The prom was unusual in the aspect that it was held this year on a Friday and unique due to the featured pants dresses, sandals, tails and the new "Edwardian" look in tuxedos.

Providing music for the May 16 event, held at the Columbia Club, was Steve Rose and his ten piece band.

Highlighting the evening was the crowning of Janet Hilligoss and Gary Hill as king and queen of the annual event.

Qualifications and picnics drew many the next day.

Janet Hilligoss and Gary Hill reign over the 1969 Prom.

King, Queen and court for the 1969 prom are: Jay Anderson, Cindy Snyder, Butch Harrison, Dottie Hill, Gary Hill, Janet Hilligoss, Debbie Shoemaker, Denny Almas, Carol Werner and Phil Snyder.

Seniors and their dates enjoy dinner at the Columbia Club before the Prom.

Traditional dancing is interrupted by a brisk polka.

Student Efforts Reap Rewards

As the school year drew to a close, students were rewarded for their efforts in athletics, academics and extracurriculars at the Awards Day convocation May 21 in the auditorium.

Phil Snyder and Ginger Soper were named outstanding senior boy and girl, and they also tied for best Thespian. Phil and Bev Caesar received the Danforth Award, and Gary Wright was presented the D. W. Knowles Memorial Award. The F. W. Baur Sportsmanship Award went to Gary Taylor. Susie Roetter was presented the Golden Guernsey Farms, Inc., Award, and recipient of the Indiana National Bank Scholarship was Phil Snyder.

Other honors went to students in art, athletics, industrial arts, home economics, music, publications, Student Council, science, math and language.

Susie Roetter accepts the Senior Recognition Award from Mr. Amick, Guidance Director.

Ginger Soper and Phil Snyder tie for the Thespian award. This couple also receive outstanding senior awards.

Gary Taylor receives the Virgil Harger Track Award for the most valuable player from Coach Grosskopf. Gary also recieved the F. A. Bauer Award for sportsmanship.

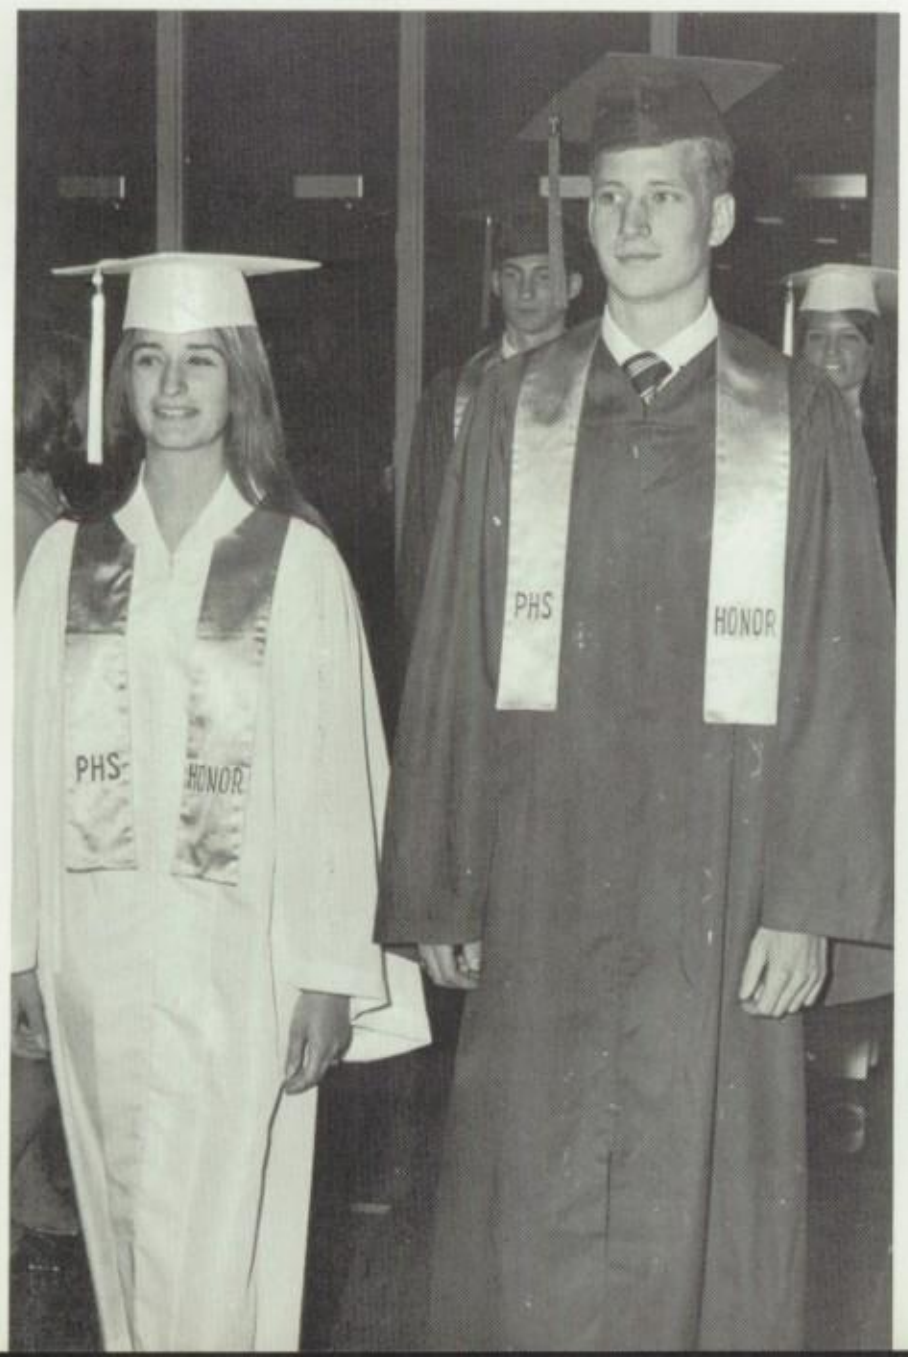
Margaret Porter beams with happiness upon receiving the Crisco Outstanding Home Economics Student Award.

Kathy Klyer receives the Sterling Silver Homemaking Award from Mrs. Loomis.

Gregg Brents receives the most valuable player trophy from Coach Don Orr.

Graduation for 180 Brings Honors, Tears and Smiles

Four happy graduates talk after commencement exercises.



Susan Roetter, salutatorian and Gary Wright, valedictorian lead in the seniors

After graduation tears are sometimes hard to hold back.

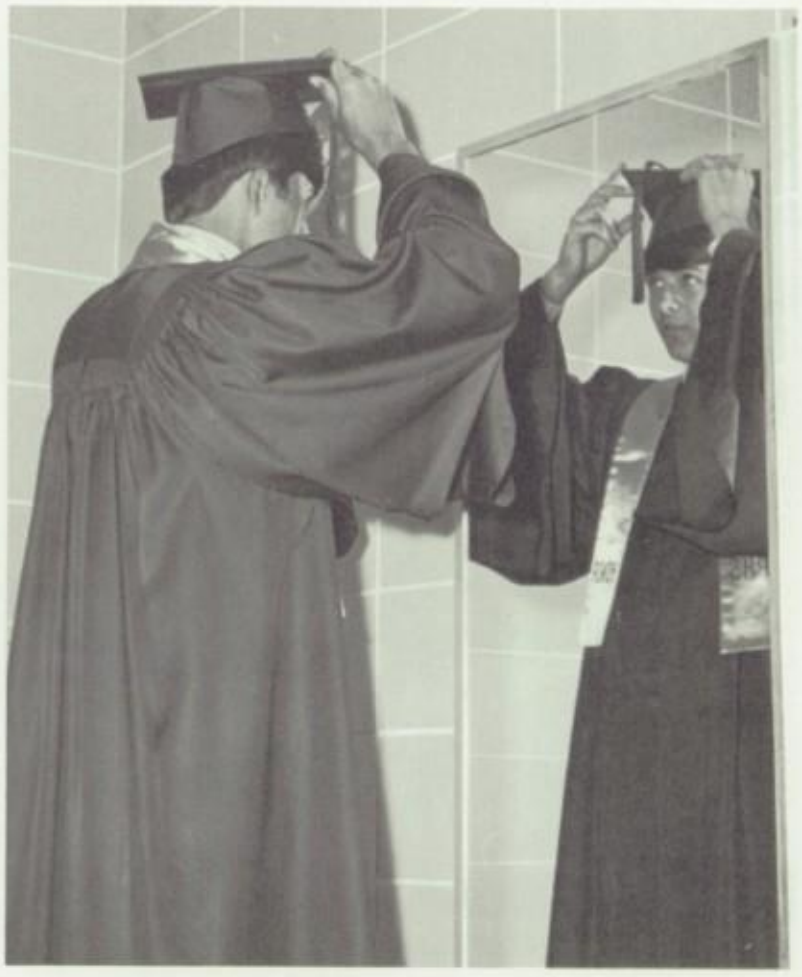
Long-awaited baccalaureate and commencement finally arrived for seniors of 1969 May 25.

Baccalaureate took place in the Frederick W. Hunt Auditorium. Reverend Roy Snyder spoke on "our Faith in the Space Age."

Susan Roetter, salutatorian and valedictorian Gary Wright spoke during commencement exercises, May 26.

Mr. William Maines, pres. of Pike's School Board presented diplomas to the 180 graduating seniors.

The senior grad party was held in the school from 10 pm to 4 am following commencement.



Graduates to be Mike Wilfly adjusts his cap before commencement exercises.

Nanette Pritchard receives her diploma from her father who is vice-president of the School Board.

Student Council, Tri-Hi-Y, FEC

The 1968-69 Student Council under the leadership of President Gary Wright accomplished more than any council in the recent history of PHS. Among its attributes, the council established Student Guides and music in the cafeteria. The Council's largest contribution to the school was the Pike High School Banner, which hangs in the gymnasium.

"Pure thoughts, pure words, pure action," the motto of Tri-Hi-Y, has been carried out through the year. President Cyndi Diller and Mrs. Reece, sponsor, have worked together to head many activities such as the building of the homecoming float, feeding a family at Christmas, and purchasing equipment for the special ed classes.

Members of the Foreign Exchange Club have had a perspective view of Europe this year through slides shown by exchange student Doris Stump.

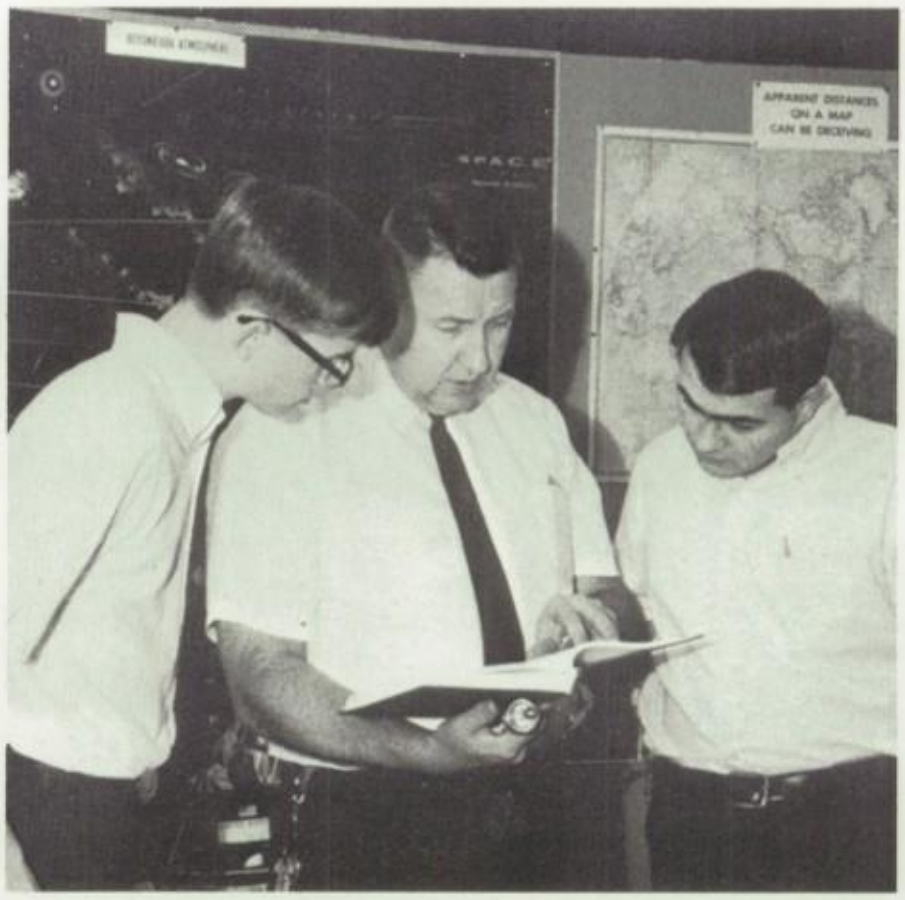
Planetarium Lures Many Clubbers

The purpose of the Planetarium Club was to initiate an interest in astronomy and teach students to operate the planetarium apparatus.

There were sessions four nights a week with three members working each night. Several nights were spent on observations with a telescope.

The climax of the year was the trip to Wright-Patterson Air Base in Dayton, Ohio in April. Sponsor was Mr. Duane Stanley.

With one of the finest planetariums in Indiana, Pike students felt fortunate to be able to solve for themselves some of the mysteries of astronomy and to be able to "star gaze."



Dave Connelly and Bill Murray consult Mr. Stanley on an astronomy question.

Fine Arts Clubs Foster Creativity

"The Diary of Anne Frank", "Spoon River Anthology", and "Music Man" were the productions of the Thespian Club this year.

A minimum of ten points was the basic requirement for membership in the National Thespians, which was earned by acting or working behind the scenes.

Phil Snyder, president; Ginger Soper, secretary; and Kathy Smith, treasurer; were the officers.

Leading the Art Club in an active year were sponsor, Mrs. Linda Young, and president, Kathi Bonzell. The agenda for the year featured such things as material stationery, maché jewelry, and various field trips.

Clubs Liven Languages

Much preparation was needed for the Spanish Club's most important project—their trip to Mexico. Officers were: M. Lonigan, Pres.; M. Wilfley, V.P.; S. Yocom, secretary-treasurer.

Latin Club's officers were: R. Slowik, Pres.; M. Diehl, V.P.; G. Sheets, secretary; S. Meadors, treasurer. Films from I.U. were shown at the meetings to enhance knowledge of the language.

Very active this year, the French Club featured a can-can line in the International Dinner, a picnic to Brown County, and a swimming party.

German Club officers for the year were: G. Wright, Pres.; C. Sieving, V.P.; B. Monninger, secretary. Mrs. Cicak was sponsor.

All the clubs helped in the preparation of the International Dinner.

Students at the International Dinner attempt to break the piñata, a Mexican tradition. The piñata holds candy and treats for the children.

FHA has had a very active year. Some of the activities were an Easter Egg Hunt for the elementary, serving at a convention at the state fair, and sponsoring National FHA week. FBLA had a successful year by going many places. One of the places they were represented at was a convention at Ball State. Besides being a co-sponsor of the sweetheart dance the FTA visited various Headstart schools, the state convention and a program at Lawerence Central on specialized education. FNA saw slides from the Chicago School of Nursing and heard an interesting speaker from Methodist hospital on the different fields of nursing.

IA Club, Red Cross Offer Services

This year saw the formation of a new club, the Industrial Arts Club, sponsored by Mr. Robert Largent. The purpose of the club is to promote understanding of technology. Activities included a field trip to Jasper, Indiana, and the making of a bulletin board to inform boys of available industrial job opportunities.

The Red Cross Club, sponsored by Mrs. Donna Reece, was a co-sponsor of the Sweetheart Dance. At Christmas, the members had a party. The service club also helped to promote the United Fund Drive.

Sports Clubs Attract Many Participants

Events at GAA slumber party captured the attention of members.

Pike High offers many sports for boys, but G.A.A. is the only active sports club for girls. Under the direction of Miss Silver, the girls held a slumber party and sponsored a semi-formal turnabout dance.

A new organization, Devilettes, was formed to assist coaches and officials at athletic events. In addition, the girls also presented trophies and awards, and sold malts at many of the events.

The Lettermen's Club, sponsored by Mr. Grosskopf, held a dance where Ann Leavitt, freshman, was chosen queen. A change in the annual spring trip was made and members traveled to Cincinnati.

GAA attracts many sports enthusiasts.

Rushing to meet bi-weekly deadlines, writing, and editing were not the only activities of J' students. Students attended many journalism workshops. Pete Bird and Randy Moser won journalism scholarships.

News Bureau, in which students write for local papers, was an area in which aspiring Pike writers could utilize their talents in a money-making venture.

The Pike's Peak staff realized a very fulfilling year by surpassing subscription quotas and producing a fine yearbook. The change of advisors at mid-year provided a new perspective in the task of planning a yearbook.

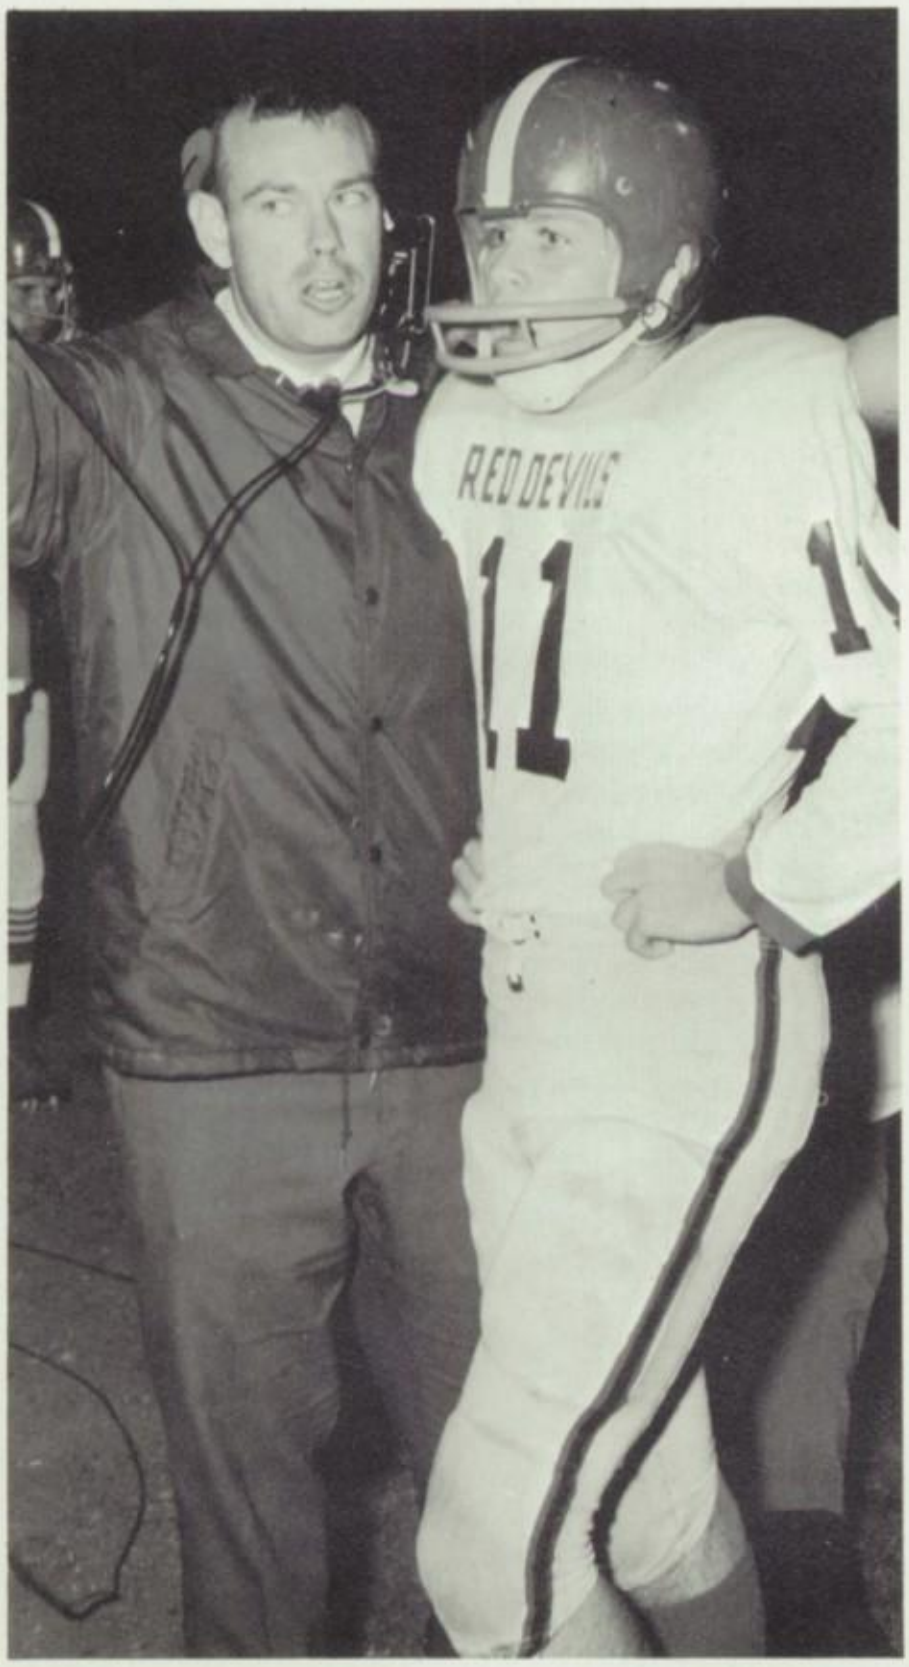
Gridmen Show Drive, Spirit Even When Going Is Rough



Head Coach Tom Campbell gives instructions to his quarterback Dennis Almas during a brief timeout.

With an indication of what will hopefully come next year, the young Red Devils closed out the '68 grid season with two straight victories. Another small and inexperienced squad, Coach Campbell's gridmen struggled to a deceiving 3—7, the best in the past four years. In probably one of the toughest seasons of Marion County football, Pike faced only two teams with losing records.

Leading the gridmen for the '68 season was Mr. Football and co-captain of the team Denny Almas, who also lead the scoring and rushing for Pike. Flanker and defensive halfback Steve Regal was the team's leading receiver for the second consecutive year, was voted most valuable player and was selected for the all conference team. Junior Chuck Keever was chosen co-captain and was also named to the all conference team. Junior Gary Tudor was named most improved lineman and Senior Jim Gillaspy was chosen most improved back.

Letter winners for the season were: Sophomores P. Schooley, K. Shugart, and T. Sigman; Juniors R. Bass, H. Bredeweg, S. Harrington, C. Keever, J. Probst, G. Tudor, and J. Wible; and Seniors D. Almas, J. Gillaspy, E. Goeke, B. Harrison, M. Pengilly, S. Regal, B. Shank, G. Taylor and R. Weger.

and Push for the Future

The roundball season arrived with the sports-writers claiming that the Red Devils were in for a rebuilding year as the result of graduation. With only three seniors and very little experience the Devils gamely waded through a long 6—14 campaign—definitely a rebuilding year.

With six eventual sectional champs on the schedule, the Devils managed to upset two, Warren Central and Plainfield. The first five victories for the team were all road contests, as the final thriller was taken by Pike on a last second heave. Though disappointing in many aspects, the 68-69 hardwood season saw the Devils improve while grabbing three of the final four encounters.

Devil rooters can look forward to the near future as the leading scorer, rebounder, and free throw shooter will each return. Another bright spot is the performance of the frosh roundballers. Though not exceptionally big, the team had the drive, desire and finesse that is needed for a successful hardwood campaign.

An attack of the flu made the groaners live up to their name this year. Plagued by sickness and injury, the wrestling team lost important meets to Chatard, Carmel and Chartrand, each by a single point, for a record of 5—7.

In their final season, Doug Boyer and Jim Gillaspy led the team with outstanding performances. Doug Boyer pinned 13 of 21 opponents and finished first in the conference. Drive and determination resulted in Jim Gillaspy being named Outstanding Wrestler of 1968-1969. Honorary co-captains for the season were Gary Metzler and Doug Boyer.

Other letter winners were Bruce Palmer and Bob Shank, seniors; Steve Harrington and Bill Weston, juniors; and Brian Grant, Rick Slowik, Rick Lerch, Denny Willen, sophomores.

Tank

Highly rated at the beginning of the season, the tankmen were shocked with 5 losses of the first 8 meets. With seven of the eleven records broken this year, there was evidence of tremendous individual performances. The trouble seemed to set with the lack of second and third finishes and the inconsistency of individual performances. Losing four lettermen, the outlook still looks bright for next year with six returning letter winners. The gold belt buckle for county diving champion was given to Beau Bunting who also reset the Pike record for one meter diving. The most valuable trophy went to Rick Robideau.

Holding your opponent to 1/2 point per meet is impressive in any sport but when over 50% of the matches are shutouts and you pull through with an undefeated season to top that, there is little room left for improvement. Such was the tennis season for Coach Don Orr whose netmen copped their 5th consecutive winning season, 4th consecutive conference crown, 1st county championship, Speedway Invitational, and state sectional title.

Individually, the racquetmen finished even better. Led by Dave Brents' and Steve Behrman's unscathed records, the rest of the Big 5 followed with Greg Brents 13—2, Mike Wilfley 14—2, and Bob Dunn 14—3.

The team had a rebuilding season after losing five of nine starters. The only returning lettermen this year were Emil Goeke, Greg Shugart and Jay Anderson. Anderson was the top pitcher while Gary Misamore and Greg Shugart also turned in some fine performance on the mound. Leading hitters for the season were Chuck Keever and Rick Marburger. Top fielder was Hal Harvey. The Max Metzler MVP trophy was awarded to Jay Anderson.

7th County
3rd Conference
5th Sectional

The Pike golf team had a rather frustrating 4—13—2 season. Coach Shade's linksters' final record was no indication of the potential of the '69 squad. Fine individual averages were turned in by each of the three lettermen with Steve Martin leading the way with a 37.1 per nine holes. Steve was awarded the most valuable player trophy with varsity letters going to Martin, Phil Snyder, and Holly Bredeweg. The real test of the team showed the linksters third in the conference, 5th in the sectional, and 7th in the county. The Red Devils had a tough schedule as they played city powers Park and Chatard. Reserve certificates went to Dave Gauker, Roy Morgan, Jim Wible, Chuck Wible, and Leo Hummel.

"And take that!" Gary Taylor seems to be saying.

Trackmen Boast 6—2—1 Season

Boasting a 6—2—1 record, the Red Devil track team, under Coach Grosskopf, had one of the best track seasons ever.

The year of 1969 was also the first year for the Pike High School Relays. Pike placed second of six teams competing.

With 8 of 12 lettermen returning, Pike has a lot to look forward to next year. Promising upcomers are: Tony Sigman, hurdles and high jump; Dean Hendrix, high jump; and Bob Green, holder of the freshman record for long jump.

The senior class of 1969 achieved many distinctions before graduation on May 26. Before school was dismissed in 1968 Gary Wright was elected student body president and Greg Shugart was chosen president of the senior class.

Homecoming was one of the first major events of the '68-69 year. Janet Hilligoss was honored as queen and Denny Almas, as Mr. Football. Probably one of the most outstanding memories of Homecoming was the student body sponsored bonfire competition. Some classes had all night guards to protect their wood from invaders. Unusual items found their way into the piles—teddy bears, rockers, and even outhouses.

Doris Stump joined the class as this year's exchange student. As the year progressed, seniors studied hard in a last ditch effort to improve their class standings. Debbie Huber competed in a Miss Teenage contest. Debbie Shoemaker was elected president of the newly formed Devilettes, a girls' service club which assists the athletic department. Members of various clubs and organizations worked hard to contribute to convocations and projects at Thanksgiving and Christmas. In January Randy Moser won a Quill and Scroll award at the Marion County Press Day.

And then senioritis began to settle in. Seniors counted the days until the prom, then senior finals, Awards Day, and finally the culmination of four years—commencement.

Seniors occasionally were able to fit studying and mixers into their busy schedules.

Seniors, led by Gary Wright, cheered the teams, joined honoraries, and indulged in everyday events at Pike.

Juniors Develop Scholarship, Leadership, Spirit

The Juniors set the pace for spirit this year by winning the award for the Homecoming bonfire competition and the spirit award.

Adding ability to the football team were co-captain C. Keever and G. Tudor, most improved player. Varsity cheerleaders backing the teams were: N. Sablosky, B. McKinney, K. Bainaka, S. Oliverio, and alternate K. Conrad.

Marvin Turner led the class as president. Other officers were: Steve Hise, V.P.; Carol Edwards, Sec.; and Kyle Bowman, Treasurer.

Scholastically the juniors have been well represented. The members of the "Exercise in Knowledge" team were: J. Westmoreland, H. Harvey, J. Cunning, B. Heffleman, and alternate B. Flick.

Participants in the I.U. Program included J. Cunning in French and B. Burchfield in German.

Settling Into an Active and Competitive Pace Are Lively Sophs

The "settled" sophomores participated in many Pike activities with bubbling enthusiasm. At Homecoming they took first place in the float competition. Sue Loudermilk was the class nominee for Homecoming attendant.

Their spirit continued throughout the year and they won many of the pep session competition awards. They also received special recognition for their outstanding hall decorations during sectional spirit week.

Carl Roetter and Diane Pritchard added their talents to the fall Thespian production of "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Representing the class of '71 as officers were: Rick Slowik, president; Rick Lerch, vice-president; Kim Shugart, secretary; and Steve Katzenberger, treasurer.

Frosh Swing into Successful Year

John Thornberry and Joyce Dundich add decoration to Freshman Hall.

The class of '72 got into the swing of things with experiences ranging from entering the wrong rooms to buying elevator passes. Their eagerness to participate was well rewarded when they placed first in the hall decorating competition for sectionals.

The frosh football team was backed by valuable players; halfback Bob Green, quarterback Wade Buckwalter, and guard Curt Keever.

Ann Levitt reigned as queen over the Letterman's annual dance.

Leading the class in their first year at PHS was president, Bruce Baker; vice-pres. Marc Chandler; secretary Jan Hise; and treasurer Ruth Jackson.

The freshmen, as the year ends, look forward with eager anticipation to future years at Pike High School.

Panhandle Eastern and its major subsidiary Trunkline Gas Co. are primarily engaged in the transmission and sale of natural gas. Supply is obtained from the two most significant producing areas in the United States; the Mid-Continent area of Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas including the Anadarko Basin and the Panhandle and Hugoton Fields, and the Gulf Coast area of Louisiana and Texas, including the off shore Gulf of Mexico.

Natural gas is sold to 110 investor owned utilities and municipal gas systems and directly from the pipeline to large volume industrial users. While sales are made in 12 states and Canada, the principal market is located in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri.

Another subsidiary, Anadarko Production Co., Fort Worth, is engaged in the exploration and development of oil and gas in important producing areas of the United States and Canada.

An affiliate of the Company is National Helium Corp. which extracts helium from natural gas for the Federal conservation program at its facility near Liberal, Kan. National Helium is jointly owned by Panhandle and National Distillers and Chemical Corp. Panhandle also owns 1.5 million shares of the common stock of National Distillers. Another subsidiary Century Refining Co., operates a refinery near Garden City, Kan.

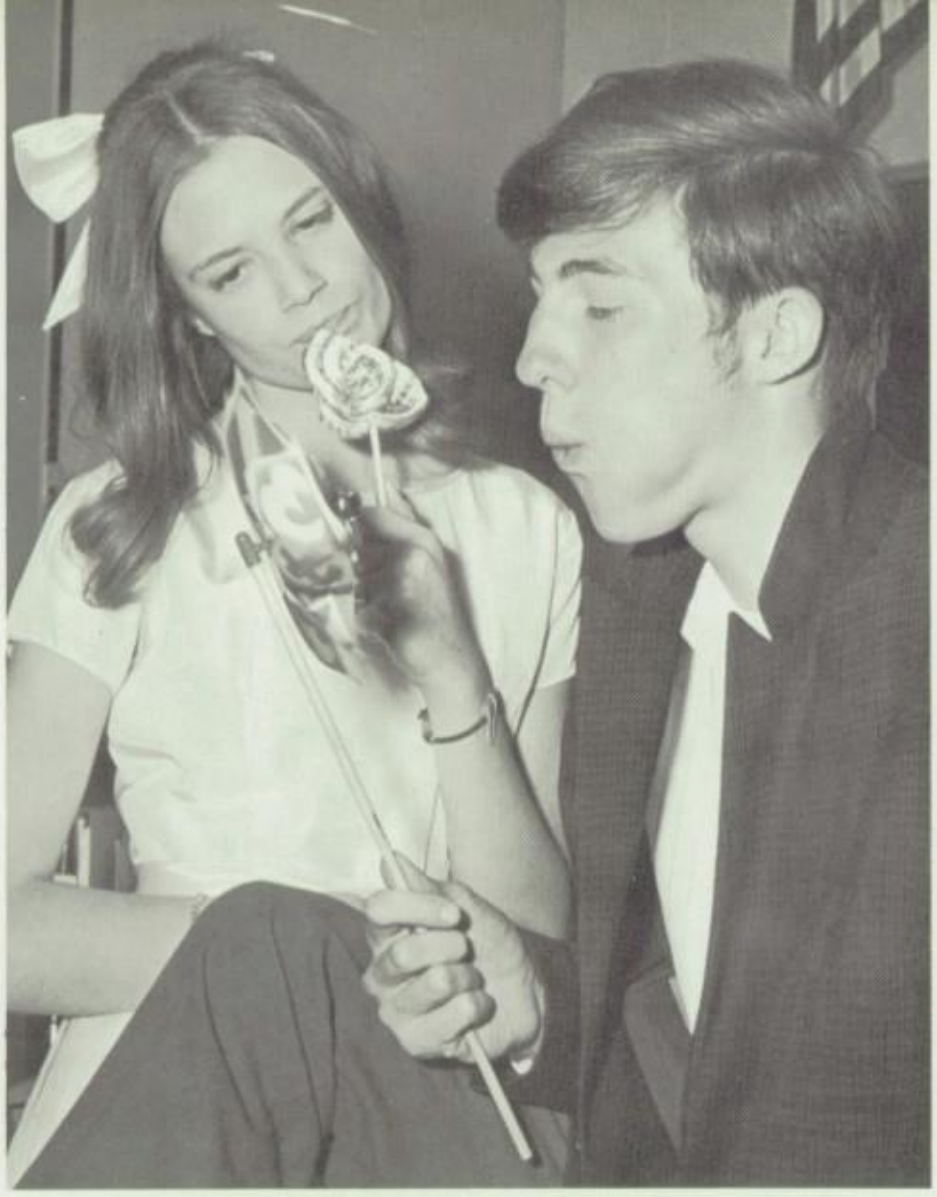
With Spring Comes Quiet Reflection . . .

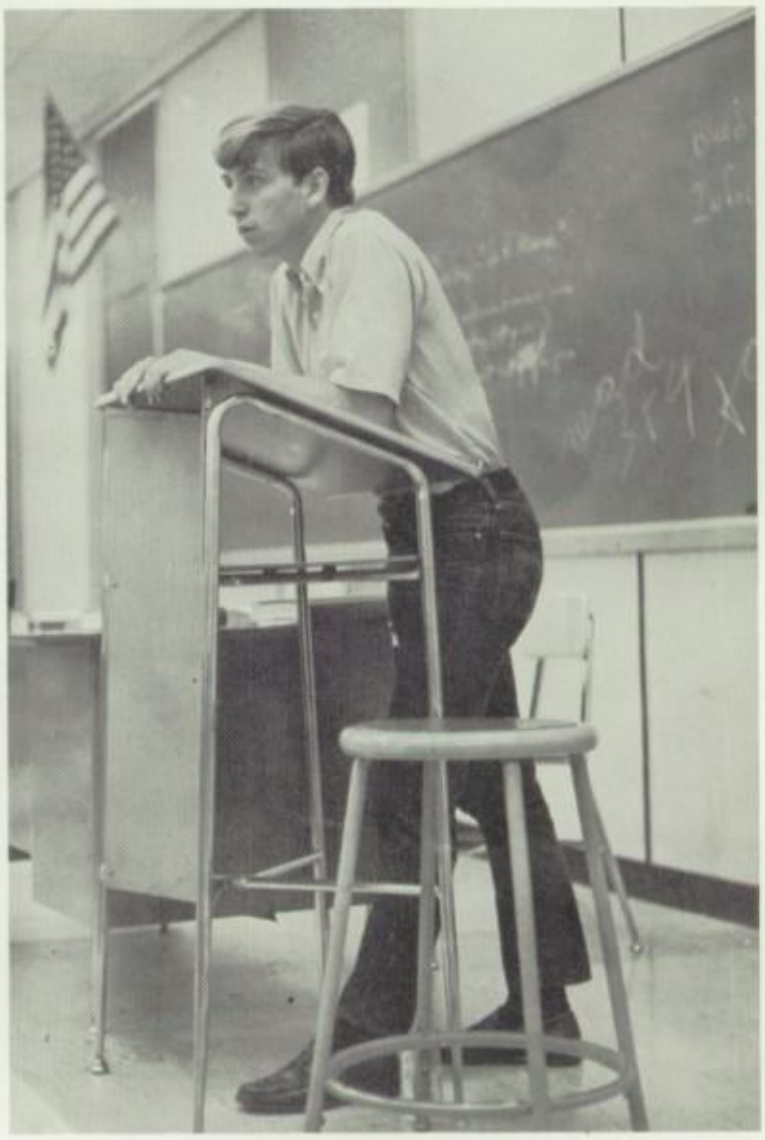
During a lull in activities, before the storm of graduation, the mall provided a beautiful spot for students to escape the hubbub and demands of life, classes, and studies. It also proved a scenic backdrop for many hours of quiet reflection or animated discussions on life: past, present, and future.

Then Senior Week Moves Into Full Swing . . .

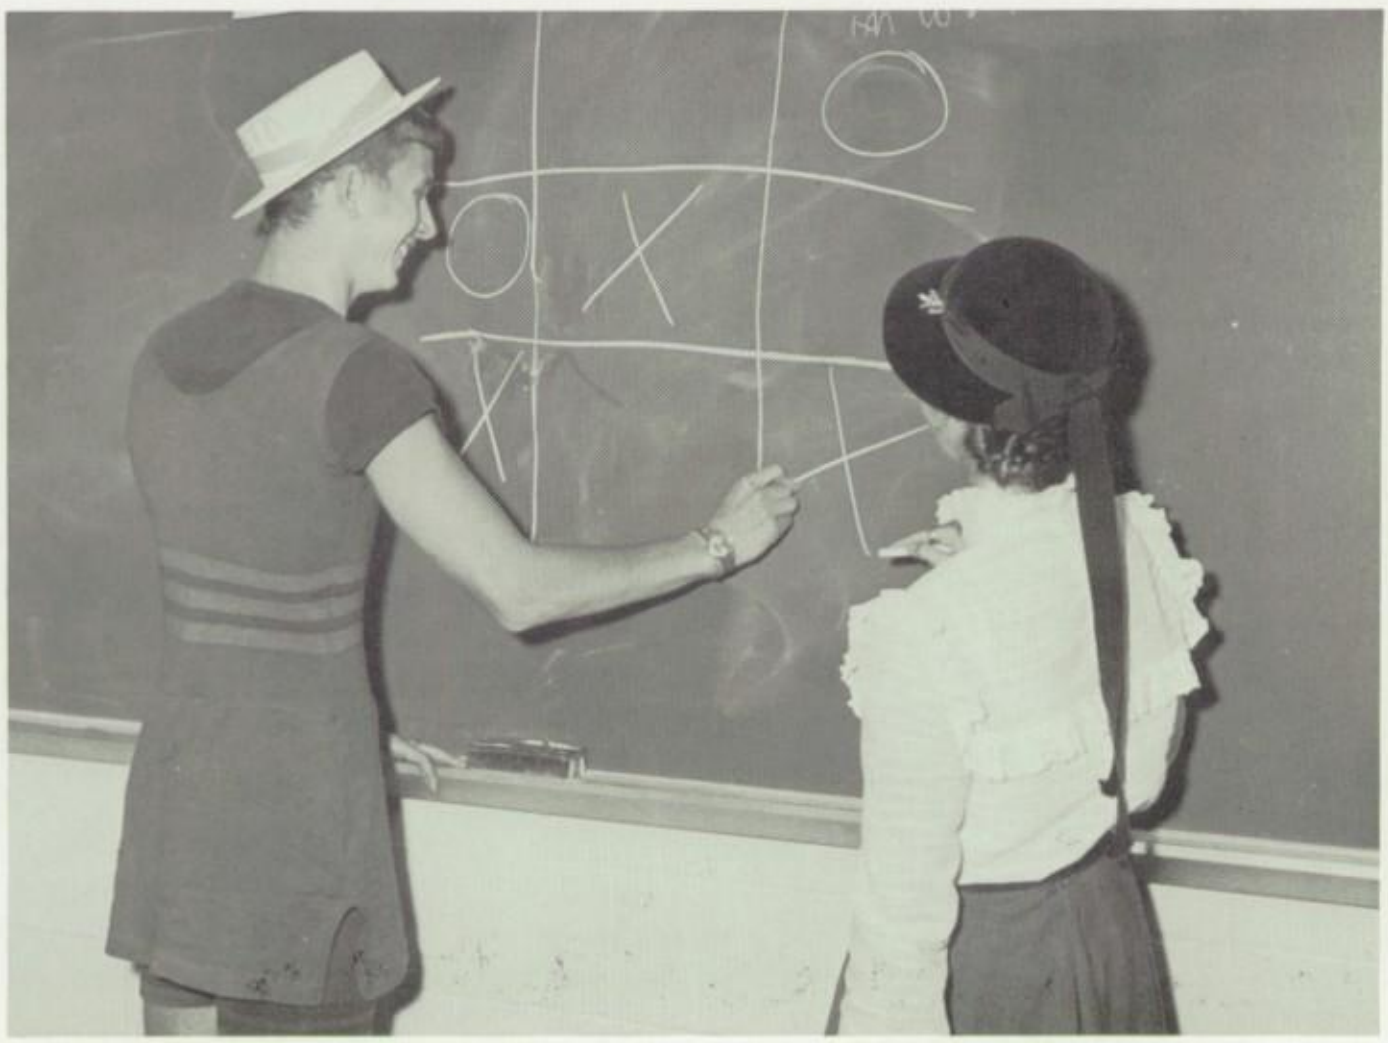
As the school year ended, Senior Week produced one last flurry of activity beginning with Costume Day.



In the midst of confusion, two seniors, Bev Caesar and Phil Snyder, seem to be reflecting on their future . . . or have they simply reverted back to their childhood?



Tom Richards shows prowess as a teacher on the day seniors took over the teaching of classes. Seniors planned the lessons and taught for a full day. This aspect of Senior Week was a new one.



Gary Wright and Susie Roetter seem to be taking advantage of Senior Week to see which one can excel in tic-tac-to. Competition between these two classmates has been stiff all through their school years.

And Finally Graduation Draws
the Year to a Joyous,
but Sobering Close.
